AWARD CONTRACT FOR NEW BANK AND OFFICE BUILDING HERE

First National Bank Directors Award Contract

Work To Be Started At Once On New Six-Story Bank Building

TO BE COMPLETED WITHIN 8 MONTHS

Cleveland Concern Is Low Bidder; To Use Local Products

Contract for the construction of the handsome new six-story banking house and business block of the First National Bank of Lawrence County was awarded today by the board of directors of the bank to the Boldt Construction Company of Cleveland, O., the lowest bidder. Actual work in connection with the construction of the new building will be started Friday. The banking room of the new building is to be ready for use of the bank in eight months.

Announcement of the awarding of the contract was made at noon today by Thomas F. Morehead, following the meeting of the directors for the purpose of considering the bids and awarding the contract.

Tear Down Present Building

The present banking house of the First National Bank of Lawrence county will be completely demolished and replaced by one of the finest modern, fireproof structures in this section of the country.

While this is being done, the First National Bank of Lawrence county will conduct its business in the Henderson building immediately adjoining the banking property on the east, which has been leased for

Big Fire Loss In Warren, Ohio

Braden Block On High Street Is Damaged; Loss $75,000

MARKET HOUSE IS SAVED BY FIREMEN

(Special To The News)

WARREN, O., May 19.—Warren's business district was threatened early this morning when a devastating fire swept the Braden block, located in the heart of the business district on High street. The loss is estimated at $75,000, partly covered by insurance. Only the valiant efforts of the fire fighting force held the flames to the Braden block.

The origin of the fire is unknown. At 4:30 this morning flames were discovered shooting from windows of the block and a general alarm was turned in. When the firemen responded, the front part of the building was an inferno, the drug store of Lewis and McWhirter, a barber shop, a beauty shop and other small shops being totally destroyed.

Didn't Reach Market House.

Through the work of the firemen the flames were kept from the market house located in the rear of the block, although the front end of the building was gutted. Smoke and water contributed some damage to the market house.

This is the third fire in 15 months in the Braden block and the fire warden is investigating rumors that it was incendiary. It is said that persons were seen in the basement of the building at midnight last night and the warden is endeavoring to locate these persons.

The Braden block is a three story brick block and contains many small business concerns.

Air Mail Plane Down Near Mount Jackson; Pilot Is Not Injured

Cleveland to Pittsburgh mail plane "Miss Pittsburgh" was forced to land on account of fog about six miles southwest of New Castle last evening at 5:10 o'clock.

Pilot Noyes was not injured in the least or was the plane damaged but after delivering the mail to the New Castle postoffice the pilot was able to get off and continue his way towards Pittsburgh.

Bewildered by the dense fog that covered the country the pilot decided to attempt a landing and made a perfect landing on the George Patterson farm about two miles south of Mt. Jackson.

He at once secured the aid of a neighbor, Joseph W. Gilmore who took him and the three pouches of mail to the New Castle postoffice in the Gilmore car. The mail was dispatched by the first train to Pittsburgh.

Returning to the place where the plane landed Noyes found it in perfect condition and at 6:45 was able to get off on his journey to Pittsburgh. But being afraid that he might be forced to land again he thought it best that the mail go by train.

It has not been learned whether he reached his destination in safety or not, but with the better visibility that prevailed later in the evening it is thought that he would have no more trouble.

Ten Days More Flood Disaster Still In Store

WATER CONTINUES RISING NEAR GULF

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BATON ROUGE, La., May 19.—With five weeks' disaster behind and 10 days more ahead, the flood waters of the Mississippi drove added thousands from the farms and homes today in the rich Atchafalaya basin of southern Louisiana.

More than 400 square miles are being evacuated under orders broadcast last night from the office of State Relief Director John M. Parker. Twenty-seven towns and villages and hundreds of miles of farming country in St. Martin, Evangeline and Iberville parishes are being abandoned before the flood waters rolling down behind the west levees of the Atchafalaya from the Bayou Des Glaises section and from the Melville crevasse.

Eleven to 13 feet of water at Morgan City, in St. Mary parish, is predicted by May 27. The Gulf of Mexico is the southern border of this parish.

While the great rescue machine which has held loss of life to a minimum during the overwhelming rush of water through Louisiana during the last 10 days concentrated today upon the southern end of the state, thousands of unconquerable citizens of Pointe Coupe parish still fought off the Mississippi

Mention Doran As Possibility For Prohibition Post

Dr. James Doran, Government Chemist, Of St. Paul, Is Choice Of Andrews

HAYNES SUPPORTERS FIGHT FOR POSITION

Secretary Mellon Will Shortly Name Prohibition Commissioner

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Secretary of the treasury Mellon was about ready today to announce the appointment of a new Federal Prohibition commissioner.

The government's "dry war council" headed by General Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition chief, after a lengthy conference virtually agreed to recommend the appointment of Dr. James Doran, of St. Paul, and since 1907 a government chemist.

Mellon already has been advised of the probable recommendation of his aides. At the treasury it was anticipated that the announcement of a permanent commissioner would be made possibly today or within a week.

If Doran is appointed it means the elimination of Major Roy A. Haynes, of Ohio, from any control of the government's prohibition policies. Haynes is now acting commissioner. It was said that he has packed up his personal papers

HANLON NAMED STATE SECRETARY

New Castle Man Honored At State Convention In Altoona, Wednesday

B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club, has been elected as the Pennsylvania state secretary of the Knights of Columbus, according to word received here today. The election was held Wednesday, May 18, in Altoona, Pa., where the state convention of the order was held.

Mr. Hanlon has been a member of St. Mary's Council here for many years and is a past grand knight. He has always been active in the work of the organization and his election to the state post comes as a recognition of his able work in the local chapter.

Bertand Agrees To Settlement Of Flight Squabble

Third Plane Now Ready For Hop To France When Weather Clears

TEST FLIGHT MADE IN AMERICA TODAY

Weather Conditions Still Unfavorable For Trans-Atlantic Hop

(International News Service)

MINEOLA, N. Y., May 19.—Settlement of the differences between Lloyd W. Bertaud suspended navigator and co-pilot of the Columbia and Charles A. Levine, backer of the plane in the New York-Paris flight, was effected today at a conference in the latter's home at Belle Harbor.

Bertaud immediately instructed his attorneys to withhold injunction proceedings which he had instituted to restrain the Columbia Aircraft Corporation and Levine, chairman of its board, from attempting the trans-Atlantic flight without him.

Three Cornered Race

These fetters removed from the Columbia, the dash to Paris resumed the feature of a three cornered race, with the take-off of any one or all of the planes almost an hourly possibility depending on the weather.

Commander Richard E. Byrd's Fokker plane, the America has been thoroughly tested as to load carrying and emergency rations have been packed. The Ryan plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, in command of Capt. Charles Lindbergh, has been held back only by bad weather for the past forty-eight hours.

BATH, Mich., May 19.—Andrew Kehoe, madman-murderer, killed his wife, Nellie, with his own hands and stuffher body in a hog-crate before he dynamited either his home or the Bath consolidated district school, snuffing out 45 lives.

This was revealed today when investigators found the body of Mrs. Kehoe in an outbuilding near where the farmhouse stood. The skull had been crushed and the body put in a hog crate with family silverware, jewelry and valuables.

The wife's body was the forty-fifth to be found, with indications that still more would be disclosed as rescuers continued their labor.

BATH, Mich., May 19.—The death list in the consolidated school explosion reached 43 today as a crew of wreckers dug in the snarled debris of the building for more victims.

About 75 others were injured, many seriously.

This little farming community, yesterday the object of curious thousands, today was left virtually deserted to mourn its dead.

It is feared that others in Lansing hospitals may die.

Look Here! Fred And Sol! Pittsburgh Barbers Step Out

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 19.—"High browed" barbers hereafter will be known as "Chirotonsorist," especially those tonsorial artists who charge 35 cents for shaves and 65 to 80 cents for a hair cut, according to barbers here today who are members of the Master Barbers Association of Pittsburgh.

More than 100 barbers met last night to form the association, whose object is principally to bring more money to all those concerned, and to make the hair cutting profession more respectable, the organizer of the association declared.

The alraming feature to the barber profession, the organizer explained is that the customer frequently knows how he wants his hair cut. He said, "We are going to stop that for we alone know how they want their hair cut. Why, we barbers formed the Medical Association. If it hadn't been for barbers there wouldn't be an association of doctors."

Dam Gives Way; Town Is Swept By Water Wall

Eight Are Known Dead And Many Are Missing In Wyoming

(International News Service)

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., May 19.—Eight persons were known to have lost their lives, many were reported missing and Kelly, Wyo., twenty-five miles from here, was in ruins today. The town was swept away by a wall of water twenty feet high and a mile and a half wide that roared down the Gros Ventre river when Gros Ventre, a natural dam, gave away late yesterday.

The known dead:
Max Edick, a farmer.
Mrs. May Lovejoy.
Mrs. Smith, sister of Mrs. Lovejoy.
J. L. Almy.
Three members of the Needie family.
An unidentified man.

The dam was formed two years ago by slides started by earthquakes. It was pronounced safe at that time by engineers and government officials.

KIDDIES IS BADLY BURNED BY LYE

OIL CITY, Pa., May 19.—One daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aites and two daughters of Mr and Mrs. Charles Aites were painfully burned with lye while the Aites families were moving into a double house here. In some manner the three small children secured a can of lye and rubbed it plentifully on their hands, face, mouth and knees before being discovered by the frightened mothers. Medical aid was summoned, but it is believed the children will recover. Those buned were: Clara Mae, aged two years; Dorothy, aged 11 months, and Mary, aged two years.

HARRY K. BELL WINS WASHER

News Reporter Is Successful (?) In "Lottery" Conducted By Police

Harry K. Bell, who has been a member of the New Castle News, since before Mergenthaler invented the linotype machine, has a new washer. A very serviceable washer, one that will ont wear out with heavy wear, an all steel washer to be truthful.

Harry won the washer at the Charity Ball which was held Tuesday night in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, and inasmuch as it was raffled off by the police department it looks as though there had been some collusion between Harry and his friends the cops.

On the night of the ball one of the officers on duty at the Du Bell attraction sold Harry three raffle tickets, each one good for a chance on a washer. The tickets are alleged to have cost him a quarter.

At the close of the evening a drawing was held and it was announced that Mr. Bell had been the fortunate buyer of the lucky ticket. Upon being told he engaged a truck to go to the Cathedral to get his washer, and stepping inside asked for his property.

He got it. The washer was just what it was advertised, an all-steel washer, one of the kinds you put under bolts. And now it develops that the only tickets sold for the raffle were the three bought by Mr. Bell.

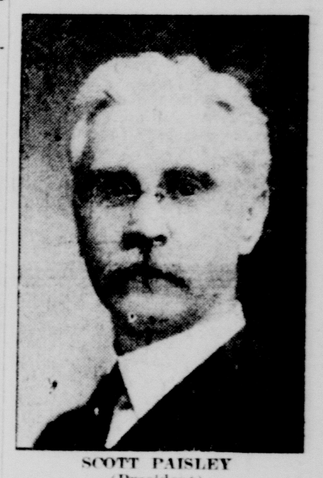
Druggists Come From 26 Counties For Day's Sessions

Scottish Rite Cathedral Scene Of Notable Gathering This Afternoon

BANQUET EVENT AT SIX O'CLOCK

Meeting Of Delegates In Auditorium To Feature Evening Session



SCOTT PAISLEY
(President)

Druggists from every county in western Pennsylvania are pouring into New Castle today for the convention of the Western Pennsylvania Druggists Association, which opens this afternoon in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Early this morning the delegates began to arrive, and were met in the Cathedral lobby by a committee of local druggists in whose charge the convention is. Along the lobby is a long list of articles which have been donated by wholesale druggists as prizes to be given to the more fortunate tonight.

Committee at Noon

At noon today a committee luncheon-meeting was held. These will be presented to the convention at 2:00 o'clock at which time the annual business meeting and election will be held.

At six o'clock tonight the big event takes place when the delegates, 1000 in number, it is expected, will be banqueted in the dining room of the Cathedral. At 7:30 the crowd will adjourn to the auditorium where a program of entertainment and speaking will be held.

I've seen a lot of ball games by the stars of some renown, and I've seen some games decided on the lots of my home town, but the game I want to witness, one I know will be a treat, is the game that's due tomorrow by the cops who walk a beat. They are booked to play the garbage men, and thousands will be there, it promises by all its signs to be a "swill" affair. The coppers claim the tilt is theirs, the garbage men the same, but tomorrow will decide for me, just who will win the game. The proceeds will be heavy to the flood fund it will go for the cops and garbage laddies know it needs a lot of dough, so tomorrow they'll be at it, in a rather heated way, its a treat I can't be missing weather's forty-one today.

Western Pennsylvania Retail Druggists! New Castle Extends Her Welcome To You!

Howdye druggists!

New Castle is mighty glad to see you, pleased that you have chosen this city for your convention and hopes that you will enjoy your visit here.

To many of you New Castle is no strange city for you have visited here many times. Many of you perhaps are here for the first time and may be interested to know just what kind of a place you are in.

First of all, New Castle is a city of approximately 55,000 people, a city of homes and churches and mighty fine folks, men and women who obey the law, pay their debts, and do their job to the best of their ability.

New Castle is an industrial city, one in which iron and steel products are manufactured, many allied products, china ware, cement, boxes, automobile bumpers, and a dozen other sorts of things.

Here is found the New Castle plant of the Carnegie Steel company turning out thousands of tons of steel bars and billets. Here is found the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company with forty huge mills turning out tin plate for the world. In addition there is the New Castle Works of the same company with twenty mills.

But not only do we make the steel bar and the tin plate, we also have the American Can company factory where millions of tin cans are made every year for the preservation of fruits and vegetables and milk.

In the cement world we are no mean factor. The Lehigh Portland Cement company has three mills here, down at Crescentdale we have the Crescent Portland Cement company, and over at Bessemer the Bessemer Limestone and Cement company. The hills of Lawrence county are underlaid with valuable limestone deposits and the cement made here goes into roads and bridges and buildings all over the United States.

We do not make automobiles here, but we do turn out a lot of strip steel for the cars. The Elliott-Blair company and the Blair Strip Steel company supply this commodity. The bushings for many automobiles are made here by the Johnson Bronze company, one of the foremost plants of its kind in the country.

You may notice at the dinner table tonight that you are eating off Shenango china. This plant, located here is the largest manufacturer of hotel chinaware in the world, and down at New Castle junction we have another pottery, the Universary Sanitary Manufacturing company turning out car-

Screen Player Admits Love For Dorothy Mackaye

Paul Kelly, On Trial For Death Of Musical Comedy Star, Tells Story On Stand

WAS ATTACKED BY HUSBAND OF WOMAN

BY ARTHUR L. MAREK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Paul Kelly's declaration of love for Dorothy Mackaye, actress-widow of Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, today was written in the records of his trial for the "knuckle murder" of the song and dance man.

The young film hero, who is accused of killing Raymond with his fists in a quarrel over the latter's wife, has repeatedly declared himself to be in love with the actress, but yesterday he made his avowal under oath. Taking the witness stand in his own defense, almost the first thing Kelly did was to relieve the jury of any possible doubt about his regard for Dorothy Mackaye.

Kelly told of having been curtly ordered without explanation from Raymond's home, during a Christmas party.

"You think I'm in love with your wife," Kelly said he told the wrathful husband as he prepared to leave.

"What did you say next?" his counsel asked. "I told him he was right."

In telling his own story of the events leading to the fatal fist fight, Kelly pictured Raymond as the aggressor. He denied impropriety in his relations with the actor's wife.

The fight started, Kelly said, when Raymond made unjust accusations and abused him in terms which he said he could not repeat.

He had gone to Raymond's home to have a "talk" after hearing of the actor's "wise cracks." When Raymond demanded to know his wife's whereabouts and accused her of "living" with Kelly, the screen juvenile said he slapped him with the back of his hand.

It was when Raymond followed him out of the room and "lunged" at him, Kelly said, that he struck with full force. The actor was coming toward him each time that he felled him. Once Raymond struck his head on the davenport as he fell. Raymond refused to shake hands after the fight.

Kelly branded as false the testimony given by his Japanese valet, "Jungle," who had told of pajama breakfast parties in his rooms.

"Then, he did not serve you and Miss Mackaye breakfast?" Kelly's lawyer asked.

"Absolutely not, never," came the indignant reply.

Kelly was preceeded on the stand by a parade of film stars who appeared as character witneses. He was still in the box when court adjourned until today.

the pharmaceutical world will be present for the meeting tonight. Dr. Jacob Driver, Dean of the Pharmaceutical School of Fordham University arrived early this morning. E. E. Brockmeyer, general counsel of the National Association of Retail Druggists arrived shortly after and J. H. Knowles, Editor of Tile and Till was expected early this afternoon. All three have a place on the program.

This is the first convention of this kind ever held in New Castle and Scott Paisley, president of the association, and his fellow druggists of the city have worked to make it the success it deserves to be.

Druggists Assist

New Castle druggists are doing little today but working in convention activities. Stores will be closed at least part of the day and assistants are in charge of the stores the other part. The owners are all working towards making this convention one that the druggists of the association will remember as a big time and if preparation is any criterion this will be just that.

There will be one pleasing feature outstanding at the convention, the fact that this meeting is being held just after the signing of the Turner Bill by Governor John S. Fisher. This provides that no drug store can be opened unless manager of the store is the owner. President Scott Paisley was present in the governor's office when the bill was signed and has the pen in his possession at the present time.

The Cathedral lobby is an interesting sight today, rivalling in appearance the windows of a wholesale drug company. Lamps and fountain pens, tooth paste and magnesia, hundreds of packages of merchandise which are the courtesy of the wholesalers and which the more fortunate are going to take home with them tonight.

In the past few days the Western Pennsylvania Association of Druggists has come to mean something to the purveyors of pills. From a modest beginning it has gained in numbers and strength until today it comprises almost all the druggists in this western tier of counties. As a recognition of the large part New Castle and Lawrence County druggists have played in the building of the organization, Scott Paisley, a veteran druggist of this city was made president a year ago, and through his efforts and those of his fellow druggists the convention was brought to New Castle.

The women have a part today in the convention. A committee of wives of the local druggists has completed arrangements for the entertainment of the wives of the visiting delegates, and while the men are coping with the problems of the organization, the women will be enjoying the hospitality which is being offered.

Town Talk

George Fullwood of 1017 Pollock avenue, on his way to Salt Lake City, Utah, reports that in passing through Ohio and Illinois the farms were flooded with water for miles, and when he reached Cheyenne, Wyoming on May 14 there were five and six feet of snow along the railroad tracks.

A big blizzard in this part of the country had swept over the countryside and froze thousands of sheep and two sheep herders.

One of the members of the New Castle News Staff has received a card from William Lestas, a New Castle business man who is visiting friends and relatives in Greece. Mr. Lestas is enjoying his vacation, 6000 miles away from home, and says that he is getting his copy of the News regularly.

and is preparing to vacate his office at the prohibition unit.

Fight For Haynes

Although the Anti-saloon league has fought for the appointment of Haynes and even today had not given up putting him at the helm of the dry navy, it was said that this organization would not object seriously to Doran's selection.

While officials today predicted Doran's appointment, it was stated that until the actual announcement is made by Mellon, Haynes as well as other candidates are still technically "under consideration".

Among the other candidates are Seymour Lowman, of Elmira, N. Y., former lieutenant governor of New York; E. C. Yellowley, administrator at Chicago, with the backing of a Methodist temperance board, and a number of "dark horses".

Within the last few weeks, as the fight for the commissionership became bitter, Secretary Mellon has received thousands of letters pressing the candidacy of a number of persons. Many letters demanded that Haynes be named, while others sought his removal.

Andrews May Remain

Andrews' friends said that he would resign immediately if Haynes obtained the post. Should Doran be named, Andrews' is prepared to remain as prohibition czar until his program of reorganization is deemed completed by Mellon.

Coordination of activities of the Coast Guard, prohibition bureau and customs service in relation to their enforcement of the dry and smuggling laws is one of Andrews' objectives. He announced that a statement would be issued Sunday outlining the progress made on this program.

Doran's appointment would mean the continuation of the Andrews' policy of federal warfare against the big liquor interests and smuggling, with the hip-pocket toter and other small violator of the dry laws left to the state and municipal authorities.

Snappy Saying

A woman may not be able to reform a man but she certainly can inform him.

Blaming It on Eve

"One day", said a story-teller, "at the close of a hot day, Adam was returning with his hoe on his shoulder from a hard day's labor to his humble cottage. Maybe it was a cave. That doesn't matter, for it was a humble abode. Young Cain was running ahead, boy-like, throwing rocks at the birds. Suddenly they came upon a beautiful garden. 'Oh, father', said Cain, 'look at that beautiful garden. I wish we could live there'. 'We did live in that garden', said Adam regretfully, 'until your mother ate us out of house and home'."

New Castle is the centre of a network of good roads, improved highways leading in all directions. The city also has as one of its immediate environs Westminster college, an educational institution that occupies a high place in the collegiate world. The city is likewise the centre of an excellent farming area, and is one that has reflected a steady development and growth during the past twenty five years.

Building permits in the past few years have totalled millions, and the city likewise has as one of its notable features, Cascade park, one of the most beautiful pleasure resorts in the country.

New Castle is a real city, a city of opportunity, a city of work and welcome and we want you to come back. Again, druggists, New Castle is glad you are here. May you carry away a pleasant recollection of the city.

Come again!

RETURN VERDICT OF GUILTY IN EFFORT TO BRIBE SHERIFF

(Special To The News)

WARREN, Ohio, May 19.—After being out but an hour, the jury trying James Munsene, well known Italian here, returned a verdict of guilty of offering a bribe of $500 to Sheriff J. H. Smith. This was the second trial, a previous conviction having been reversed by the higher courts and a re-trial ordered. Munsene is well known among Italians in the Mahoning and Shenano Valleys.

Deaths Of The Day

Mrs. J. W. Scott

Mrs. Mary Vinton Scott, aged 66 years, widow of J. W. Scott, former resident of New Castle, died Wednesday, May 18, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Lawson, of Lima, following a brief illness.

Besides Mrs. Lawson she leaves another daughter, Mrs. Clara Spangler, of Findley, O., and a son, George Scott, of New Castle. Mrs. Scott also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Lottie Newton of Lima, Mrs. James Gibson of Sharon, Mrs. Jackson of Philadelphia, and two brothers, John Vinton of Philadelphia and George Vinton of California.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the home of her daughter in Lima.

Mrs. Book Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. Maria Justice Book took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from her late residence, 111 North Jefferson street, with Rev. W. E. McClure of the First Presbyterian church officiating. Burial was made in Oak Park cemetery and the pallbearers were Dr. Robert Wallace, John B. Haley, Joseph Hannon, Wylie McCaslin, John B. Hutton and Dr. R. W. MacKenzie.

Time Of Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Dugan Davies of Pittsburgh, who was instantly killed at an early hour Wednesday morning when the auto in which she was riding skidded and turned over on the Chicora highway, near Butler, will be conducted Saturday, May 21, at 2:30, daylight savings time, from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Dugan, 607 Croton avenue. Rev. H. C. Weaver of the First Methodist church will be in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

LITTLE MICHIGAN TOWN MOURNING SCHOOL HORROR

Kehoe, a farmer, yesterday exploded several charges of dynamite in revenge for high taxes which forced foreclosure of his farm.

Kehoe was killed as was Superintendent, E. E. Huyck when dynamite exploded under Huyck's car. The superintendent had just climbed in and Kehoe had run from the school house ruins to catch up with the man whom he blamed for his dilema.

Today state police are searching Bath and other towns in the state for Kehoe's wife. It is thought, however, that she was killed when Kehoe dynamited his farm house and barns.

Where Kehoe got the dynamite that blasted the schools, his farm and Huyck's automobile has not been determined.

Another report as that it had been sold to him by the state farm bureau.

Find More Explosives

Six hundred pounds of dynamite and 250 pounds of gun powder was found in the school after the explosion. It had failed to go off. If it had, all of the 325 children in the school would have been killed, state police say.

The fact that the school term closed today is believed to have cut down the toll. Higher classes were holding examinations and many of the students had escaped the tests through high grades. Graduation exercises were to have been held tonight.

Early plans for a single public funeral for the blast victims have been given up and parents are going ahead arranging for separate and sometimes double funerals for children.

It is estimated that upward of 50,000 persons viewed the scene of the disaster after reports had swept the countryside. From noon until late at night a steady stream of machines, bearing cargoes of sightseers moved out the highway from Lansing.

It is feared some of the injured in Lansing hospitals will die. Investigators believe Mrs. Kehoe was killed because she knew of her madman-husband's plans. State police say she could not have helped but know, since the farmhouse was wired in every part and dynamite was attached to the wires.

BERTRAND AGREES TO SETTLEMENT OF FLIGHT SQUABBLE

Commander Byrd, Lieutenant George O. Noville and Bert Acosta in the America at Roosevelt Field caused an excited stir in the rival camps at Curtiss Field in the wake of a false report that a take-off had been secretly planned.

The plane was taxied about the field and flown at low altitude for about two hours, then returned to her hangar. The flyers reported that they were satisfied with the performance of the ship.

Unfavorable Weather

Unfavorable weather was reported again today between here and Newfoundland.

Bertaud indicated that he will fly the course of the "Great Circle." In thus abandoning his plan to follow the shipping lanes he removed the moot point on which he and his co-pilot, Clarence Chamberlin, were at odds.

The conference at Levine's home was arranged by G. M. Bellanca, designer of the Columbia. The points of difference were gone over in an "amicable discussion" Bertaud announced.

Following the meeting, Bertaud made the following statement:

"At a conference this morning between Charles A. Levine and myself, an amicable discussion was held at which all our differences were satisfactorily adjusted.

"I will instruct my attorneys to withhold injunction proceedings against the Columbia Aircraft Corporation. I am satisfied, as a result of this conference, that I will accompany Clarence Chamberlin as navigator and co-pilot on the trans-Atlantic New York-to-Paris flight in the Columbia."

Near Decision On Summer White House

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19. — An early announcement is expected from President Coolidge as to the location of the Summer White House.

Col. E. W. Starling, U. S. Secret Service, returned today with a personal report for the President on sites in six states—Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado, Iowa and South Dakota. The President will make his choice after conferring with Starling.

While earlier indications favored a site in Wisconsin, the President's physicians have been urging him to seek altitude, and for this reason Colorado may get the call.

BURNS ARE CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

though her condition was considered serious from the first, every possible effort was made to save her life.

She was born in New Castle June 6, 1898, a daughter of Frank A. and Eva Biddle Foster, who survive her. She was an active and consistent member of the First Christian church of this city and was associated in missionary work with the Volunteers of America in Pittsburgh.

Miss Foster was a young woman of fine Christian character and an unusually pleasing personality. Her sudden death brings the deepest regret to her host of friends and associates.

Besides her parents she leaves two brothers, George and James Foster of this city.

Funeral services will take place Saturday, May 21, at 2:30 p. m., from the First Christian church. Burial will be made in Graceland cemetery.

WORK WILL START SOON ON LATROBE HOSPITAL ADDITION

LATROBE, Pa., May 19.—Work will be started within a week or 10 days on the new addition to the Latrobe hospital, to be known as the Sadie Metzgar Memorial annex. The plans are to be presented to the board of directors of the hospital at their next meeting. The preliminary plans were approved recently. The annex will be two stories high with a basement and will contain 10 private rooms. The new addition was made possible through a bequest of the late Mrs. Sadie Metzgar.

Julia Claussen, Metropolitan Opera Star, who protects her voice, writes:

© Strauss Peyton, N.Y.

"When I decided to smoke cigarettes, I looked about to see which brand was in favor with most men. The answer was easy to find. I noticed that practically all the men at the opera were smoking Lucky Strikes. I learned from them that this cigarette, delightful in flavor, left their voices in splendid shape for their singing. So I tried Lucky Strikes and knew that the men were correct in their judgment. I am enthusiastic about their flavor and the fact that they do not affect my voice." Julia Claussen

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

DRUGGISTS CONVENTION

NEW CASTLE retail druggists are today hosts to the May convention of the Retail Druggists Association of Western Pennsylvania. Representatives of this important business in some twenty-six western counties in the state are here for the sessions.

The convention is being held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, and is one of the first of large size to make use of the facilities afforded by this magnificent adjunct to New Castle, since its opening a few months ago.

New Castle is glad to join with the local retail druggists in welcoming the visitors from Western Pennsylvania to the city, and to all of the admirable facilities for such a gathering as that of the day, provided by the cathedral.

We hope that the druggists will be so well pleased with the convention here today that they will come back again within the next few years. New Castle recognizes that it is necessary for the conferences to be placed in different parts of Western Pennsylvania for convenience of all concerned, but New Castle also knows that it makes no difference where the convention goes for the next session, there is no city that can provide better facilities for the assemblage than those of the cathedral of this city.

With the completion of "The Castleton," new hotel being erected at Falls and Mercer streets, another addition will be made to the convention facilities of this city that will mark it a leader in Pennsylvania.

New Castle is glad to welcome the visiting druggists, and to share with them all of the wonderful convention opportunities provided in the cathedral building, one of which every Lawrence Countain is justly proud.

PREVENTABLE DROWNINGS

EVERY summer takes its toll of death by drowning. The majority of the drowned are children happily at play when they suddenly find themselves beyond wading depth.

Swimming is not only one of the most healthful of exercises, but the ability to stay at the surface of water is likely to prove some time, for every adult and child, the one thing that can prevent death. Considered in this light, the ability to swim is for all a preventive as important as vaccination and other measures taken to prevent contagious diseases. The idea that very young children cannot be taught to swim is entirely erroneous. The great majority of native Hawaiian children can swim almost as soon as they can walk.

To prevent so many deaths from drowning, and to offer an added splendid means of physical development, it would be well for all public schools to provide instruction in swimming, as many schools now do. And this instruction should begin with the kindergarten and first grades. It is the youngest children who most need to overcome the fear of water and to learn how to keep up when beyond their depth.

GOING TO COLLEGE

THE college man still furnishes something to argue about. While a majority of persons have faith in college education there remain some who are skeptical about the ability of colleges and universities to help the young man prepare himself for his productive years. The remark is still heard that "college is a waste of time," although few take the remark seriously.

No doubt there is a percentage of young men who enter colleges and universities for their social and athletic possibilities, but is it possible that the least studious can attend classes four years without assimilating some learning and improving the mind in some degree?

There is always the possibility that the youth who goes to college for everything but study will develop into a student while the serious freshman may not develop into a thinker in spite of his desire to study. The question is far from being answered to the satisfaction of all.

Just Folks

A GOOD SAMARITAN GETS STUNG

He was riding on a train, when he heard a young man sob:
"I've no money for my fare, I've been months without a job!
And a telegram today from my sister told me this:
'Mother's dying: Come at once, if you want a farewell kiss.'"

Then the stern conductor said: "Off you go unless you pay!
I am sorry for you, boy, but that is the railroad's way.
I want fourteen, seventy-five. Hard of heart you think I am.
But I've got to have a ticket, not a yellow telegram."

To the man who sat behind, then he turned and sadly said:
"I am trying to get home. Even now she may be dead.
Here's a diamond pin I've kept. It's the last good thing I own.
Will you take it from me, sir, for a twenty dollor loan?"

And the tears coursed down his cheeks as the man pulled out his roll
And a little prayer was said for the dying mother's soul.
Then the youth got up and left with that twenty dollar bill,
And that shining diamond pin is the good man's treasure still.

Now he wears it in his tie in remembrance of the deed
When his heart and hand were moved by another's pressing need.
But the dying mother tale will not catch him any more,
For that diamond pin was bought in a five and ten cent store.

Daniel Chester French, who has been made the recipient of the first medal of honor ever awarded by the National Sculpture Society, is regarded as the most distinguished of living American sculptors. His Milmore memorial, "Death Staying the Hand of the Young Sculptor", his Gallaudet group in Washington, D. C., his statue of Washington in Paris, his Minute Man at Concord, Mass., and his several statues of Abraham Lincoln are among the most notable works in sculpture which have been produced in America. Mr. French is a native of New Hampshire and began his art studies in Boston. Later he spent several years in Italy. His winter studio is in New York, his summer studio near Stockbridge, Mass., in the heart of the Berkshire country.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:13. Sun rises tomorrow 4:39.

New Castle's contributions to the Red Cross fund for relief grows slowly. The money is asked for a most worthy object and every citizen is asked to help it along.

A motion picture actress wants a divorce, but she doesn't want to be bothered with the details while busy with the serious work of making pictures. Getting married in the first place was probably a very trivial detail to this actress so that probably is why it didn't take. But this opens up a field for thought in the divorce matters. Some of these days perhaps those who are after them can get them without the necessity of even going to the court house or being questioned. Anything just to please the easy divorce advocates is progress.

You can tell, just by looking at a man, whether he always laughs at the boss' jokes.

Even after all the fuss, work hustle and advertising, very few people, compared to the population of this city, bought tickets for the relief of the Mississippi flood sufferers. A great majority of the people don't give a tinker's tink.

And also a patriotic few helped New Castle by joining the Chamber of Commerce. In many places we know of those who refused to join, and even insulted the patriots who gave their time to solicit, would have no business after the campaign is over as the citizens of those cities would not deal with them. There is also a class who can afford it, but does not give a dam.

Real Ripe Oranges

When we were in St. Cloud, Fla., last winter we visited the fruit ranch of A. S. McKay, formerly of this city. He had one tree of oranges there which had about the finest fruit on it we ever licked into. After we got home "Sid" sent us half a crate of them. Yesterday, to our surprise another half crate arrived. They certainly are fine and we are using the letter that came the same day from our good old friend!

St. Cloud, Fla., May 12, 1927.

Dear Friends:—It is not often that people of the north get a chance to eat a genuine ripe orange, especially picked this time of year, so I happened to get a few and they were so ripe I just thought they would be alright for you folks to get a taste of the real thing for once, so I want you to let me know what you really think of these. Of course these do not look so nice on the outside as some do, but the inside is what we want, so I hope you will all enjoy them.

News from the Mississippi valley tells of another serious break, one of many—that of the Atchafalaya dike—that will render 175,000 homeless. All that the Red Cross can do in such a calamity by begging methods can amount to little.

It is the business of this government to take the situation in hand, and not rely on any earnest body of Red Cross distributors, with more or less uncertain overhead.

When Europe was in trouble, it seemed easy enought to send billions—of which many will never come back. There ought to be some government interest in a "devastated" American region, with hundreds of thousands homeless, more than a thousand million dollars of loss.

One hundred and thirty-five years ago Tuesday (May 17, 1792), a few men gathered under a buttonwood tree, formed an association to trade in stocks and made a solemn agreement, faithfully kept, "not to buy or sell any kind of public stock for a less commission than a quarter of 1 per cent."

That was the beginning of New York's stock exchange, when George Washington was president and Hamilton was secretary of the treasury.

Twenty-five years later the exchange had a roof over its head. W. B. Wadsworth, still active, bought his seat in 1869 for $1,000. Two seats were sold this week for $210,000 each. Nice profit. But had Wadsworth invested his $1,000 judiciously in New York city real estate in 1869 he would now be as rich as Rockefeller.

Standard Oil of Indiana announced Tuesday the purchase from Henry and Edsel Ford of a huge, all metal, three-engine monoplane "to provide safe, fast and comfortable trips" for its officials to outlying oil regions.

The time of a good oil man is worth more than the price of several airplanes.

Perhaps Standard Oil will contribute to American flying on its own account and build that "real flying machine" which Henry Ford suggests—to cost $1,000,000.

Four hundred thousand new automobiles were manufactured in April, 360,000 passenger cars, the others trucks and omnibuses.

The real automobile boom of 1927 will come late—you will see it about August or September.

The country has now running 22,000,000 automobiles, not enough. Two automobiles per family should be the average, one for the father to take away with him, the other for the mother and children to use while he is gone. Among the really prosperous, half a dozen or more automobiles to a family is not unusual.

Unlike the horse the automobile does not eat when it isn't working. A man without a car is like a bird without wings. Get your automobile.

Prince Mistislav Galitzine, 26 years old, says that Aimee Crocker, wealthy California woman, aged 53, "bought him for a husband," agreeing to pay him $250 a month, for life. That really is not "buying," only renting.

The pay seems small for a real prince. One American father-in-law paid $7,000,000 cash to a duke that married his daughter, and the duke did not stay married.

Galitzine's ancestors would be interested in their descendant's way of earning a living.

While talking of flyers about to start, don't overlook De Pinedo, the Italian airman who is flying all the time. He has flown over four continents, and presently will fly back to Italy. There is a real flyer.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

A HAPPY OLD AGE

In an interview with Justice Holmes of the United States Supreme Court the other day, attention was called to the principle which he adopts for staying young.

This principle is nothing but work.

Work for all is the very best medicine for all the ills to which flesh is heir.

The beauty of work is that it takes one out of one's self. Whatever can divert one's attention from one's self and direct it toward other people or toward nature is a benefit to the human organism.

Man's body and mind are so complexly composed that they defy human management. Their well being is much better cared for by nature and by instinct. The best care for most kinds of diseases of body and mind is to let them alone and direct one's energies somewhere else.

Justice Holmes, who is a son of the famous Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, is about eighty-six years of age and going strong. He hardly ever misses a day in court and his life is occupied with regular routine.

He says if he should give up his work he would die.

Many men have found this to be true and many deaths are traceable to the fact that men in their old age have given up their occupations and devoted themselves to idleness.

Justice Holmes loves his work. It absorbs and interests him.

The diseases common to humanity fall helpless against his armor of work.

Work is a blessing and if work be the primal curse placed upon the human race by the Almighty, then God's curse is the best of man's blessings, for one who is always busily employed has the best guarantee of long life.

Better than gland treatment or the operations of beauty specialists or any other kind of attempt to preserve one's self is to find congenial work in which one may expend his energies.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MAINTAIN SEA POWER

Germany has staged a great comeback. It lost a great number of splendid men during the war. These men were young, the great majority of them suited for better purposes than "cannon fodder." They were only the young generation of a people who have been very highly organized industrially, for several generations. Germany expended a great deal of its capital in the progress of the War, but it will be remembered that before the Armistice the foot of no foreign soldier was ever placed upon German soil. The Germans quit when the quitting was good.

The greatest comeback of all is in the development of its new mercantile marine. As stated in the Literary Digest for April 23rd, "Her ships carry 9.2 per cent of the world trade as against 12 per cent in the Spring of 1914." Germany has not far to go to get it all back.

During the month of April Ex-Chancellor Cuno toured the United States and eventually he reached the Pacific Coast. Herr Cuno is one of the brilliant men of Germany, a man of about sixty years, tall, straight, powerfully built, with a massive head and a lot of gray matter within it. His powers of observation are very keen. There is no modern language spoken by the merchants of the world that Herr Cuno does not speak. I heard him speak English, and I know of few Americans whose spoken English can equal the Ex-Chancellor's tongue. There was nothing concealed from his observation. He has been shown every courtesy during his visit to the United States. When he came to San Diego he was informally entertained for a few hours by representatives of the United States Navy. Admiral Josiah McKean is Commander of the San Diego station. He was apprised of the Ex-Chancellor's visit to the Station in time for him to prepare himself for properly receiving the guest. In discussing maritime matters with Herr Cuno the Admiral only touched the high spots, but the gist of his statements were that the United States was committed now to a program of carrying in ships of American register products of import and products of export, that the United States today had unequivocally entered into a friendly competition with the maritime nations with the purpose of at least carrying fifty per cent of American products out, and bringing fifty per cent of freights destined for American ports back, that the merchant marine of this country was perfectly able to carry that percentage and more of the Pacific trade, that the United States Navy was ready to protect the United States merchant marine on the Pacific and everywhere else.

The Ex-Chancellor listened. He is a good listener, and his remark was "Yes, I know it. I can see it. And Germany is likewise interested in carrying its exports and its imports.

So is England, and Italy under Mussolini evidences the same desire. Foreign trade is the life of a Nation. No Nation and no Community can exist and hold itself aloof from financial relationships with the rest of the world.

The words of Admiral McKean is embodied in the speech of every citizen of this Nation who has the welfare of the Nation at heart.

TOURING

The season for touring is on. Millions of Americans are on the move. There are some, of course, who stay at home, but from my window in the Times building, overlooking the Hudson river, it looks as though there couldn't be enough Americans left at home to get breakfast—or eat it.

The great steamers nose their way down the river, in charge of puffing little tugs that shove them this way and that. And on every deck of every liner are hundreds of tourists, bound for the far places of the earth.

There is always something romantic for me in a ship putting out to sea. It is the more romantic when her decks are crowded with seekers after health, amusement, information and whatever else people seek when they go cruising.

Wood Cowan, cartoonist, returned the other day from a three months' cruise of the Mediterranean. He told me one of the most amusing travel stories of the season. It's so good, as he acknowledged, that nobody will believe that it actually happened.

The touring party had climbed the steep stairways leading up to the Acropolis at Athens.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen", said the guide, "this is the Acropolis."

"But, I want to know", interrupted a lady whom Wood identifies as being from a town in Iowa, not far from the cartoonist's own birthplace, "where are the Four Horsemen of this Acropolis?"

One of the interesting characteristics of New York during the summer season is the constant presence of an ever-changing multitude of tourists. The American metropolis happens to be much the most important port of entry and exit in the country. Not only so, but New York's predominance as a port is so great that when one thinks of going abroad it is almost taken as a matter of course that one will sail from New York.

It is not so in most other countries, and it may not be so always in the United States. New Orleans, for instance, is sure to become one of the very important ports for embarkation of passengers within the next quarter of a century. San Francisco is growing in importance in this respect every year. Boston and Charleston will be getting more and more of the passenger business as the port of New York becomes more and more clogged with traffic.

But just now the world is sifting through New York, and one may meet the folk from any of the old home towns, taking a preliminary view of their own metropolis before departing to see the world.

Acquit Pair Tried On Arson Charge In Greensburg Court

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 19.—A directed verdict of acquittal was rendered by a jury in Judge W. T. Dom's court here today in the case of S. G. Vlachos and Phillip Nicholas, of New Kensington, tried on charges of felonious assault and arson growing out of a fire that damaged a candy kitchen in New Kensington on November 10, last.

The verdict was rendered without the jury leaving the box after Judge Dom had given binding instructions to find the defendants "not guilty." The defense had asked that the case be thrown out of court.

The defense did not call either defendant to the stand, contending that the prosecuting attorney had not introduced sufficient evidence of their guilt. Further, the defense asked acquittal of an act passed by the legislature in 1919, pertaining to Arson.

It was charged that E. W. Faber, fire marshal, obtain a confession from Nicholas following issuance of a subpoena. The 1919 act states that when a confession is obtained in this manner the person making it is not liable to prosecution unless the statement is made voluntarily.

Previously, the confession made by Nicholas had been ruled out of court. The court mentioned the application of the act of 1919 in instructing the jury to find Vlachos and Nicholas not guilty.

that purpose. The first floor will be fitted up for banking purposes, while the second floor will be occupied by the bookkeeping department of the bank.

The rear of the temporary quarters of the bank during the construction of the new bank building is within a few feet of the center of the south wall of the Union Trust company building and these buildings will be connected at this point by solid walls, joining the temporary quarters of the First National Bank of Lawrence county with those of the Union Trust company.

Use Local Products

While the contract went to a Cleveland concern, it is arranged that New Castle products and New Castle workmen whenever and wherever obtainable, be used. Steel used in the construction of the building will be produced in the New Castle mill of the Carnegie Steel Co., cement used will be the product produced from Lawrence county limestone, the sand will be from the district, also brick and all possible building products.

The building will be absolutely fireproof, being of steel construction. The floors will be of reinforced concrete covered with marble. This applies not only to the banking room but also to the several floors above it devoted to office purposes. While it has not been definitely decided at this time as to what the exterior of the building will be, indications are that the Washington and Mercer street fronts will be of Indiana State Limestone.

Six Stories High

The new building will be six stories in height. The banking room will occupy the entire first floor space of the present banking rooms, which were formerly used by the National Bank of Lawrence county and the First National Bank, which are now known as the First National Bank of Lawrence County.

The banking room will be actually two stories in height and finished in the finest possible manner. There will be a delightful dome effect, which requires the lofty ceiling planned.

There will be a mezzanine floor at the rear and also at the front. That in the rear will include the directors room. That in the front will provide for special meetings in connection with the business of the institution.

On the second floor of the building, there will be provided a special room 50 by 20 feet for use of the bookkeeping department of the bank. There will be a lift elevator of the latest type provided at the Mercer street side of the banking room for the accommodation of the persons employed in this department.

There will also be four other floors fitted for use as offices. These floors will be finished with marble floors and trim and will be the equal of any similar building any place in the country.

About one hundred delegates registered today at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Beaver Baptist Association which was held in the First Baptist church of this city.

Mrs. W. H. Williams, president of the Union presided. The morning session opened with the devotionals in charge of Mrs. W. L. Defreis of the Zion church. Reports of the secretaries of Study Class, World Wide Guild, White Cross, Children's Work, Christian Citizenship, Extension and Literature, Christian Americanization, Christian Stewardship, Christian Director and Finances were given.

The afternoon session was featured by an address by Miss Edna Oden, missionary from Ntondo, Africa and a demonstration by the Crusaders from Harmony church. A solo number was given by Mrs. H. P. Holbrook of Sharon.

Rev. C. W. Macgeorge, pastor of the Ellwood City Baptist church will lead the devotional service this evening at 7:30. Address, music and the awarding of banners will be a part of this evening's program.

Bugle And Drum Corps Appear Memorial Day

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 19.—The American Bugle and Drum corps will make their first appearance before the public at the celebration on Memorial Day, according to the announcement made yesterday. R. C. Gregory was elected drum major of the organization at a special meeting held the first of the week. Ken Lauderdale was elected leader or chief musician and P. W. Allen chosen as secretary. Several new members have been added to the corps, which will make it possible for the organization to parade on Memorial Day.

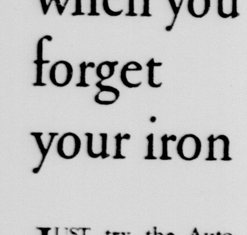
You do better ironing when you forget your iron

JUST try the Automatic and see!

It relieves you of the strain that comes from minding the iron and the ironing, too. It relieves you of having to remember to attach and detach the cord. It relieves you of waiting for the iron to heat or cool. It minimizes the danger of the forgotten iron.

It's Automatic

For the million-dollar Spencer Thermostat turns this iron off when it reaches the highest good ironing temperature, and on again when it cools to the lowest good ironing temperature. You never have to give it a thought.



Price $7.75

Because hundreds of thousands of women are using the Automatic today, it can be sold for $7.75 — not much more than the cost of an ordinary good iron.

Let the nearest Westinghouse Dealer show you how it will help you do better ironing.

Maurice—Who Always Wanted A Little More From Life—Finds Death Awaiting

By NICHOLAS GOLPIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, May 19—Life always mocked Maurice Mouvet, and, with echoing mockery, it is leaving him to death. Maurice who always wanted a little more, and never got it!

Maurice's struggles first came to attention in Paris. There, a youngster who had run away from his widowed father, he created a sensation with Madelaine, a beautiful English girl. They danced. A brilliant future beckoned. And then Madelaine married a wealthy American and Maurice was back where he had started.

Came Joan Sawyer, a society girl. With her Maurice won more plaudits And as he hungered for greater successes with her, she married.

And came Florence Walton a Follies beauty. It was with her that he perfected his waltz, for did he not waltz right into her heart? They were married—what a pair' said their audiences—only to be divorced.

And came Leonora Hughes. As they watched them dance together people murmured, "They must be in love." Their art swept Europe and America. Always Maurice wanted more fame, more glory. And then Leonora married Carlos Basualdo, son of an Argentine millionaire. Maurice wept.

Then Barbara Gennett. Quarrels separated them.

And then came Eleanor Ambrose from Newton, Kan. They were married under auspices that certified it to be a union of true love. At last Maurice had found a partner for life; the stretches of recognition were foundless. He brought her from Paris to New York. The most brilliant season of his career seemed ahead.

Life mocked again. Fashionable audiences had tired of the waltz. They wanted the Charleston and the Black Bottom. They didn't want art. They didn't want grace, and Maurice felt they didn't want him.

Maurice returned to Europe.

Life's mockery was not through.

Today he is dying of tuberculosis at the Hotel Savoy here. His health and his successes are behind him. He has still the love of his wife; still hope for life, still hope for return to the world as a dancer, to win greater renown.

ZERO HOUR SOUVENIRS

(Contributed)

Does this recall any terrible memories?

Can you see men giving one last hasty inspection to their equipment, tightening a belt buckle or finishing the writing of a missive which often became a last will and testament.

Long before these occasions arrived do you remember the great wave of enthusiasm that swept over our country. The "three-minute speakers", "loan drives", "knitting societies", "war gardens", and the cheering, tearful masses that accompanied "their boys" to the railway stations to the accompaniment of martial music and waving of banners.

Of course, they were all going to win and come back. But yet were not all a bit uneasy?

Perhaps you heard from them next in a contonment or a naval training station. When would they go over? Silence! Oh! The suspense and anguish of those terrifying times.

You scanned the newspapers for reports of submarine sinkings. You thumbed with fearfulness the long list of casualties—dead, wounded, missing, and breathed a sigh of relief when neither name of ships nor persons were enrolled in the awful toll.

And when you received a missive or a token from a far-off land, where your dear one had gone to fight for liberty—how you cherished it. The word souvenir carried a new significance. It was one of the slender threads that made you feel as if you were reaching out and touching hands with those dear ones so far away.

At last, after man and maker said: "It is finished", they returned. Happily the greater mass, joyful and smiling with tokens of their travels-souvenirs. Alas! Only too many returned not at all or in some cases a flag-draped casket returned to be nestled forever in the bosom of that dear land of liberty for which they so dearly fought.

Others returned not to resume the plow or the pen, but to rest wanly upon the whitened sheets of the hospital cot. Indeed, they felt fortunate if they could go about with crutch or wheel chair.

Out of this great melting-pot of young American manhood rose a great brotherhood. The more fortunate realized the kindliness of fate to some and the terrible unkindliness of fate to others.

In the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. A., an organization composed exclusively of boys from "over there", you hear the cry, "Carry On". To promote Americanism and ever be helpful to their needy comrades is their watchword.

To their stricken buddies is the greater part of their labors devoted. Among the other many efforts made in behalf of their maimed they have said: "Buddy". You that are still able to use your hands make us that significant memento of your supreme sacrifice, "a poppy". We will christen it the "Buddy Poppy" and pass it along the highways and byways to your people.

Can you imagine of a better or more striking souvenir in memorial than the "Buddy Poppy?"

With the very hands that handled the rifle in the trenches of France; with the very hands that steered our ships safely to port, or sent the vicious "ash-cans" unerringly into the sea's depths to spell destruction to the U-boat.

These are the same hands that fashion the "Buddy Poppy". Not by proxy are they made. Not by industrial factory help or sweatshop workers, but by the actual fingers, guided by the eyes and brains that did their best that liberty might reign supreme.

If you treasure the least bit the traditions and memories of the proud annals of the Star Spangled Banner, you will want a "Buddy Poppy".

Saturday, May 28, 1927, "Buddy Poppies" will be placed on the streets of the city of New Castle by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars. Buy a "Buddy Poppy" for Memorial Day. It's a real souvenir.

Increase Your Weight 5 Pounds In 30 Days Or Money Back

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money. But demand McCoy's

THREE ARE KILLED WHEN LOCOMOTIVE BOILER BLOWS UP

COATSVILLE, Pa., May 19.—Three trainmen were killed and one injured last night when the boiler of a Pennsylvania railroad freight locomotive blew up near here. Those killed were David W. Newcomer engineer; A. Rider, fireman and C. I. Sharp, brakeman. All were from Harrisburg. J. H. Anderson, flagman, also of Harrisburg, was so severely burned and scalded he may not recover.

All the victims were riding in the locomotive. The explosion hurled it from the tracks and wrecked it.

HORSE RACING FAVORITE SPORT OF BUTLER "FLAPPER" AT AGE 101

BUTLER Pa., May 19.—Mrs. Susan Cook, of Jefferson township, near here, has just passed the 101st birthday and is as active and spry as many younger persons more than a decade younger.

"I live an active life," Mrs. Cook said as she was found in the basement of a barn, helping her daughtre, Mrs. Elizabeth Grage, with whom she lives, with the family chores.

Mrs. Cook can read a newspaper without the aid of glasses and is able to chat intelligently on the topics of the day—including the Snyder-Gray case.

Only a few years ago Mrs. Cook beat a young man in the neighborhood in a horse race, which is her favorite sport and until recently she owned a private mount of her own.

The mother of ten children, she has outlived all but three of them. She has had twenty-one grandchildren, twenty great grand children and four great great grand children. A brother Samuel McCamey, lived near Eau Claire until his death in 1896.

"The modern flappers of today are the same as they were when I was a young woman," she says.

ree Miners Die Following Blast In Bell Colliery

t Late Wednesday Night At Mine Near Tamaqua, Pa., Takes Three Lives

(International News Service)
NEW PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May —Three miners are dead, one stantly killed and two fatally injured, as the result of an explosion at the Bell colliery near Tamaqua, late last night, according to a report to Burgess Matt Ogarty here today.

Ogarty was told that medical aid was summoned to the mine from nearby towns, but did not learn whether any others were hurt in the blast. The two injured were taken to Coaldale hospital, where they died, Ogarty was told.

The single telephone wire leading to the mine failed shortly after the explosion, making communication difficult.

To Ask New Trial For Convicted Man

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 19.—M. B. Cohen, attorney for Paul Jaworski, convicted yesterday of murder in the first degree, in connection with the slaying of I. L. Gump, Pittsburgh Terminal Coal company payroll guard on December 24, 1925, today was preparing a brief to ask for a new trial.

Conviction of Jaworski made it mandatory on the court to impose the death sentence on the man. The jury, in returning the verdict, recommended the extreme penalty.

Jaworski made an alleged confession shortly after the Coverdale holdup which implicated him in the death of Gump during the Mollenauer in which $48,000 was taken.

The gangster appeared unmoved when the verdict was read, and appeared to maintain the same attitude that has marked his trial and previous hearings. He is under sentence also to serve 30 to 60 years in the penitentiary in connection with another holdup.

Grocery Warehouse At Scranton Burns

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., May 19.—Five firemen were overcome by smoke, and damage estimated at $20,000 was done at the wholesale grocery warehouse of Harry Solomon company here early today in a fire which brought out several fire companies.

Damage by the fire was slight, but a sprinkler system flooded the building with water, doing heavy damage to stock.

To Attend Dental Meeting In Buffalo

Dr. J. V. Flaherty of N. Mercer street, left today for Buffalo, to attend the N. Y. BESSEMER NEWS

NORMAL GLEE CLUB

The Slippery Rock State Normal Glee Club will give a special program Friday evening, May 20, in the Bessemer high school auditorium. The program consists of singing, readings, quartets, solos, etc.

The Slippery Rock Glee Club is famous throughout the state, and Bessemer is very fortunate in securing it for an evening.

The concert will begin at eight p. m.

STYLE SHOW

The domestic science and manual training departments of the Bessemer high school have combined efforts to entertain the public for an evening. They want you all to come tonight and see their style show and exhibit. Miss McLaughlin is exhibiting in a style show the dresses that have been made in her department this year. Mr. Lukkarila is putting on exhibit the manual training work.

During the style show there will be an interesting program. At the end of the program the tumblers will have a few minutes to entertain the public.

TRACK MEET

Last Saturday Bessemer high gained honors, 18 medals and four ribbons, but no cup.

This track meet was held at Union high school. Although the Bessemer lads were unsuccessful in securing a cup, their effort is to be commended.

With the practice and experience they received this year, success is expected next year.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior class is earnestly working on its play, "Come Out of the Kitchen". It is backed by good characters and is expected to be a success. There are three acts to the play, all of which are very humorous. The entertainment will be given Friday evening, May 27.

EXAMS

The last final exams will be given to the senior class the week of the 23rd and the rest of the exams will be over before the first of June. Everyone will be glad when these exams are over, as they mean that vacation is near at hand.

CHAPEL

This morning Mr. Byler had charge of the chapel exercises. Several students and a professor from Westminster College furnished the entertainment for the morning. The chorus and speaker were both greatly appreciated by the school. Bessemer is always glad to welcome visitors and they value greatly the opportunity of getting in touch, now and then, with higher education.

The man who said that his cigars are the best things out may have spoken the truth.

It isn't annoying to meet people more righteous than yourself unless they try to prove it.

Pennsy Officials Plan For Probe Of Locomotive Blast

Locomotive Boiler Explodes Near Downingtown, Three Trainmen Killed

(International News Service)
WEST CHESTER, Pa., May 19.—With three men dead and a fourth in a critical condition at the Chester county hospital here today as the result of the explosion of a locomotive boiler, officials of the Pennsylvania railroad will conduct a probe to the disaster today which occurred between Ship Road and Glen Loch near Dowingtown last night.

J. H. Anderson, the injured man, was severely scalded about the head and hands but hospital authorities today said he may recover.

The dead are:— David W. Newcomer, engineer; A Rider, the fireman; and C. I. Sharp, a breakman. All of the crew lived in Harrisburg.

Anderson was a flagman. George W. Quenzler, the conductor, who was riding in the caboose, was the only member of the crew uninjured.

The train was going east from Harrisburg making about 10 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Six freight cars buckled and the engine was hurled off the tracks into a ditch by the explosion.

All of the victims were horribly mangled.

The accident is one of the first of its kind in railroad circles for many years, officials said.

Postpone Hearing In Hindman Case

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 19.—Preliminary hearings of Wayne W. Hindman, Pittsburgh's first prohibition director on charges of passing a $1,000 worthless check, today stood indefinitely postponed. No reason was announced for the postponement of the hearing.

Hindman was arrested when a client complained that he had given Hindman $1,000 for defending him, and then asked to have the sum refunded. The client alleged Hindman had given him a check which had been refused at his bank.

Sleep is the finest medicine in the world. If you can sleep calmly and soundly for seven or eight hours, you will always wake up alert and vigorous. Your whole body revitalized by the refreshing influence of peaceful slumber.
If you can't, there is something wrong with your internal system. If you are tied down to the busy life of the city, your liver and kidneys lose their vigor, impurities find their way into your blood stream, the tone of your entire system is lowered and depression, constipation and a hundred and one ills follow, bringing troubled nights in their train.
Kruschen Salts will alter this.
Two Tablets of Kruschen every morning, tasteless in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea or in a glass of hot water, will provide just the gentle reminder that your eliminating organs need. It is a full day's supply of the six mineral salts which Nature prescribes for your well being. You will enjoy every moment of the day with that exhilarating Kruschen feeling, and when night comes you will seek your bed in the calm and happy state of mind and body that makes for sound, refreshing sleep.
It's the little daily dose that does it!

LYING BETWEEN RAILS AS TRAIN SPEEDS BY, MAN SAVES HIS LIFE

ALTOONA, Pa., May 19.—Michael Pugh, 39, of South Fork, saved his life today when he dropped between the rails to escape being run down by a fast passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad. Caught between two freight cars, his escape was cut off and he remained motionless, crouched close to the track, as the train passed over him. He escaped with a fracture of the left arm.

Then again there are occasions when a grand jury is very mediocre.

Vienna boasts of an orchestra of left-handed fiddlers.

Tremendous Trifles

THE graceful nonchalance of a new neckline . . . the impertinent flare of a saucy bow . . . trifles, of course, but they reveal how tremendously important the proper details are in creating the perfect frock. Originality and distinctiveness characterize all of the fashions found here.

Bell May Serve His Entire Term In Prison Hospital

Bell's Condition Does Not Warrant Confinement In Prison Cell

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—Unless John A. Bell's condition improves noticeably within the next six and a half years, and his physicians say this is unlikely, the aged bankrupt financier will serve his entire sentence for embezzlement in Allegheny General hospital here.

Bell was resting easily today in the hospital, following his removal there after serving four and one-half hours in a cell in the county jail. Jail officials were responsible for his removal. They told the court proper facilities for caring for Bell were not available at the jail.

His physicians feared incarceration would cause a third stroke of paralysis and Bell's death. He was convicted of embezzling $800,000 in funds of the Carnegie Trust Co.

Ask Improvement Of Edenburg Road

Delegation From Edenburg And Hillsville Visits County Commissioners Today

Hillsville and Edenburg citizens are anxious to have the county commissioners spend the state aid money coming from the state on improving the Edenburg-Hillsville road from Parkstown, on the New Castle-New Bedford road west. A delegation waited upon the commissioners this morning for the purpose of urging their claims.

With what the county will add to the state aid money there will be enough to improve about two and one-half miles of the road. It was urged by members of the delegation this morning that this would build the road from Parkstown to Edenburg. Residents of that section claim that a great deal of trade goes to Youngstown that would come to New Castle if the road were built.

The commissioners listened to the arguments, but did not make any decision. There are several sections of road in the county for which the money is desired.

Insulin Treatment For Loss Of Memory

(International News Service)

VIENNA, May 19.—Insulin is now being tried as a treatment for loss of memory.

Professor Wenckebach has been trying the treatment at his Vienna clinic. One of his patients lost his memory, could not remember his own family, and did not know the season of the year. After insulin injections he rapidly came out of danger, and gradually began to know his family. He knew where he was but could not think of names.

Regular Meeting Of Legion Friday Night

Regular meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343 of the American Legion will be held in the Legion Home on North Jefferson street, Friday evening, May 20, at 8 o'clock.

Harry M. Long, commander of the post says that among the business to be taken up is the final and complete report of the Student Prince play committee, the report of the Memorial Day committee and report of the committee on the Legion picnic at Conneaut Lake.

BABY JEAN IN THE TIGERS' DEN!

Baby Jean Cook, of San Francisco, likes the pretty pussies of the circus. Some day they'll be roaring Bengal tigers. The four tiger kittens are quadruplets—most unusual for tigers in captivity.

Six Convicted Homestead Men Ask New Trial

Motions For New Trial Say Court Erred In Admitting Certain Evidence

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 19—Motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment were on file in federal court here today on behalf of six of the nine men found guilty in connection with the Homestead liquor conspiracy case, involving five members of the city council.

The ones seeking to stay the judgment were the five councilmen and Emanuel McPherson who was described during the trial as the "graft collector."

The motions charged that the court erred in admitting a "black book" containing the names of alleged disorderly places in Homestead, as evidence in the trial. No evidence was submitted, the motions stated, that showed a joint option or agreement between the defendants in connection with the alleged conspiracy.

Exceptions were taken to the fact that the foreman of the jury and "at least one other juror" took notes on the evidence being submitted. The motions held that the verdict should have been returned from facts remembered by the jurors and not from the notes.

No evidence of money being paid or received was submitted at the trial the motions stated.

Movie Cowboy's Widow On Trial

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Although five film extras are on trial for the murder of Tom Kerrick, movie cowboy, the prosecution today singled out Sarah, the widow, for its heaviest fire.

Neighbors testified that Henry Isabell, a defendant, and a guest at the early morning Hollywood party during which Kerrick was shot, ran from the Kerrick home crying: "Help us! Help us! Sarah Kerrick has shot Tom."

In addition to Mrs. Kerrick and Isabell, Joe Hunt, Nita Davis and Irish Burns are defendants. Jealousy over Kerrick's interest in the beautiful Miss Burns, the prosecution charges, was the motive for the shooting.

Local Delegates At League Convention In Tarentum, Pa.

Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stump, Katherine Zank, Mabel Steinbrink and Lillian Hartman of St. Paul's Lutheran church of this city were in Tarentum, Pa., today where they attended the 69th convention of the Pittsburgh District of Luther league which was conducted in the Grace Evangelical Lutheran church of that city.

The convention theme was "Youth of Today Leaders of Tomorrow." The chaplain of the day was Rev. A. C. Waldkoenig of Pittsburgh.

Outstanding speakers of the day were Dr. E. C. Xander, president of Thiel college, Greenville, who will speak this evening; Miss Elsie Otto, missionary on furlough from Liberia, Africa; Rev. Carl Storek of Natrona, Pa., and Alfred Kechner, vice president of the district league.

Annual Tourist Rush To Europe In Full Swing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The annual rush of Americans to Europe is in full swing.

Piers along the North River are almost nightly a gay scene of steamship sailings with many farewell parties making merry.

Twenty-seven steamship agencies have estimated that the passengers carried from the United States to Europe during 1927 will total 450,000. At least half of these will be American tourists.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of my wife Lillian McConell; also for the beautiful floral tributes and automobiles donated.

HELD FOR COURT FOR SURETY OF PEACE

Following a hearing before Alderman Green, Mae McDaniels, was held for the June term of court on a charge of surety to the peace. In default of bail she was committed to the county jail.

Katy Robko, charged with being an inmate of a disorderly house, was placed in jail last night to await a hearing before Alderman Cooper.

A "good neighborhood" is one where you get liquor from a host instead of a bootlegger.

So often "tolerance" is just a fellow-feeling for those whose vices are similar to your own.

Girl Wins Silver Cup As Black Bottom Champion In New York

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 19.—The marathon dancers are at it again. Police intervened and stopped a "black-bottom marathon," after three of the girl contestants had collapsed. The contest started at 1 a. m. and was stopped at 5 a. m.

Margaret Miller, 18, was declared the winner, having danced thirty-nine and one-half miles. She was given a "handsome silver cup," for her efforts and declared champion black-bottom dancer of New York, which won't buy her any new dresses.

Violent Shocks Rock Portugese Town, Is Report

(International News Service)

LISBON, Portugal, May 19.—This city and suburbs were shaken by earthquake shocks early today. The population was thrown into panic, but no damage nor casualties were reported.

If you are well bred, you will buy your new spring lid instead of getting it in a restaurant.

I do my own wash

—yet my hands stay soft, white

I USED to hate Monday, for my week's wash was always very heavy. But washday is now so easy for me.

I just use Rinso. It's great in our water—makes wonderfully thick, lasting suds.

I soak the whole wash in these suds for about two hours—then rinse. The dirt soaks right out and everything becomes spotless without a bit of hard rubbing. And oh, so much whiter than ever before. Sterilized, too!

And with Rinso my hands never get red and parboiled any more. They stay white and soft.

Why not try Rinso next washday? You'll see why the makers of 30 leading washers endorse it.

$1,000,000 Estate Goes A Begging

BOSTON, Mass., May 19.—A million dollars is waiting for the living heirs of a man who died 70 years ago.

At Joseph Shaw's death in 1857 he left only a modest fortune; but through the magic of compound interest the estate, unclaimed during the intervening years, has piled up.

Shaw had five children—George, William, Charles, Joseph and Mary. Whether any of them are still living lawyers have been unable to determine. The attorneys are trying to find grandchildren of Shaw.

Wants Damages For Automobile Accident

Frank L. Herbert Of Wampum Brings Suit Against F. J. Connors For $309.13

Frank L. Herbert, of Wampum, this morning filed a suit against F. J. Connors in which he asks for $309.13, damages as the result of an automobile accident. Herbert claims that his son, Paul Herbert, was driving his car south on the New Castle-Wampum road at the outskirts of Wampum, when Connors, who was going north turned out to pass another car going in the same direction, and in doing so struck and badly damaged the Herbert machine. It is claimed that the accident was due to the recklessness of Connors in trying to pass the car ahead of him when the Herbert machine was too close.

Daughter Of Noted Short Story Teller Dies In Los Angeles

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Ashes of Peggy Porter, "Miss O'Henry," daughter of the famous short story teller, will be buried in Asheville, N. C., or in Austin, Texas, it was learned today.

A. J. Sartin, to whom "Miss O'Henry" was married three days before her death, will take the ashes east as soon as he is sufficiently recovered from a breakdown caused by grief. Peggy died after a long fight against tuberculosis. The body was cremated yesterday. The officiating minister used philosophic excerpts from "O'Henry's" tales in the services.

Peggy's father is buried in Asheville. Her maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Roach, lives in Austin.

Defenders Win Sham Battle On Eastern Coast

"Blue" Forces, Defending New England Coastline, Annihilate Invaders

HEAVY LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES, REPORT

War Game By Army And Navy Forces About Over With Capture Of 13,000 Troops

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CAMP ADAMS, NEWPORT, R. I., May 19.—"The battle of New England" is virtually ended and the "blues" won the "war" when they pocketed 13,000 troops landed by the "black" armada and annihilated them with heavy artillery fire, it was unofficially announced today.

Ten enemy transports with 20,000 men on board were theoretically sunk during the engagement.

The nine forts along the coast were reduced fifty per cent by battleship fire. Losses were heavy on both sides.

At noon today the war game was practically over. The principal expeditionary force of 13,000 men that had been landed on the beaches east of Narragansett Bay over a front of twenty miles had been "boxed" by the five divisions of defensive troops and from a military standpoint the position of the enemy was "hopeless."

The enemy's main body and protecting vessels passed Norman's Land, whistling buoy, Martha's vineyard, last night and assumed their landing formation.

Meanwhile the enemy was making feints at other points along the shore toward the west with the hope of deceiving the "blue" command.

Fort Under Fire

Point Judith was put under fire and a landing attempted there, but this movement was repelled. Early today five transports anchored seven miles west of the Vineyard Sound light. Black battleships poured heavy fire into Point Judith.

Forts on shore and the Blue scouting fleet engaged the enemy and "sank" ten army transports.

Another feint at a landing was made in the vicinity of the mouth of the Connecticut River. This attack, too, was easily repelled.

Then the "blacks" made their main landing east of Narragansett Bay. The first and second waves that landed consisted of infantry, tanks and mountain artillery. The "blacks" extended their line across a stretch of from eighteen to twenty miles long, all the way from Little Compton, through Adamsville and over to South Dartmouth.

When the move became apparent to the "blue" command, five divisions of troops held in reserve were moved to the scene.

The "black" forces that had landed meanwhile consolidated their positions and moved inland about eighteen miles.

Then the "black" troops were stopped by the heavy artillery fire from the "blues" and a definite battleline formed. Between this line and the seashore, the enemy troops were pocketed and annihilated.

GREENVILLE, Pa., May 19.—Fire of undetermined origin damaged the old Greenville hall, Science building on the campus at Thiel college today. The loss has been placed at $30,000.

College officials believe that the fire started in the light room of the Physic department. Flames were discovered by Henry Muntz, a student. The second and third floors were practically gutted while almost all equipment in the various departments was ruined by smoke and water.

The building is the only original structure on the campus. It was erected in 1870 and three years ago was taken over for the Science department. While no plans have been made, it is probable that the structure will be rebuilt as the four walls are in good condition.

This fire was the second serious one to hit colleges in this section this year. Several months ago the "Old Main" at Westminster college was burned to the ground.

Jack Pickford And Marilyn Miller Are Seeking Divorce

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Denying there was "any third party involved, Jack Pickford, film actor, admitted today he and his wife, Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star were planning to obtain a Paris divorce early in June. They were married in 1922.

Pickford said his wife, who is in Chicago, would embark for Paris soon and he would follow to appear before a divorce tribunal.

"We tried a year's separation to prevent a divorce" Pickford explained, "but we finally decided we are temperamently unsuited for each other."

Allege Son Is Sued; Called Woman 'Mother'

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 19.—Thomas William Armstrong, a World War veteran, formerly of Philadelphia, is defendant in a suit for $5,000 damages filed by Mrs. Mary Devine of this city. Mrs. Devine swore on the witness stand that Armstrong called at her home and persisted in calling her mother. Her maiden name was Armstrong, and the moral implication in the soldier's claim that she is his mother is the basis of the suit.

Armstrong testified that he was born in 1895 in St. Vincent's Orphanage at Seventieth street and Woodland avenue, Philadelphia. When the World War broke out he tried to find out who his parents were, never having learned before. A letter without a signature was received by him in which Mrs. Devine was designated as his mother. A man named James Ryan, of New Philadelphia, was declared by the anonymous writer to be his father.

There will be a lot of Americanism out in the district where toothpicks are served with the desert.

Tornado Damage At Indianapolis Is Over Million

Six Victims Caught In Path Of Sudden Twister May Die

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19.—Six of the victims of the tornado which devastated 175 residential blocks of Indianapolis last night may die, physicians said today.

Thirty-five others had been cared for in hospitals a check this morning showed. More than 100 others received first aid treatments at fire stations, drug stores and in their homes. Seventeen injured remained in hospitals today.

Estimates of the property damage ran into millions of dollars.

It was estimated today between 300 and 400 homes were wrecked and that between 1,000 and 1,500 persons were homeless.

The twister first dipped to the ground in the southwest part of the city sending roofs, automobiles, trees, telephone poles,. household furniture and other objects flying through the air. The storm traveling at a rate of nearly 100 miles an hour ripped through the city toward Irvington and passed in an eastern direction.

The actual tornado lasted only nine minutes.

Down town Indianapolis also was badly hit. Practically all large plate glass windows on Washington, Meridian, Illinois and New York streets were blown in. Heaps of broken glass lay on the sidewalks.

Fire Completely Destroys Residence

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 19.—A large blaze, late last night, completely consumed the home of two Grove City families, when fire started in empty house. Paul Shaffer and Harry Nelson, two men employed here in Grove City but living just outside the borough limits, were away from home with their families last evening and returned to find the house ablaze and beyond control. The Grove City Volunteer Fire Department answered the call which was sent in about ten-thirty, but the building was a mass of flames when they arrived on the scene and they only succeeded in saving the outbuildings from burning. The building and all furniture and personal property of the two families was completely destroyed. The fire was near the Smith Schoolhouse and on what is known as the "Old Malott place," now owned by the First National Bank of Grove City and tenanted by the two families.

Continue Beer Scandal Case

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., May 19—Counsel for the seven men and one woman under indictment on charges of conspiracy in the so-called Ohio-Pennsylvania beer ring waived a preliminary hearing before Federal Commissioner James K. Peck here shortly before noon today and by agreement the case was continued for hearing by Federal Judge Albert W. Johnston of Lewisburg.

The agreement was made shortly after the hearings opened. Miss Louise Thomas, bank clerk, created a sensation when she identified William V. Loughran, wealthy Scrantonian, and alleged "brains" of the alleged conspiracy, as "W. J. Vincent" who figured prominently in the case.

Negro In Hospital From Knife Wounds

Lieutenant Harper and Officers Dukes and Fleeger answered a call to the New Castle Hospital at 3:15 o'clock this morning, where they found a negro, Merle Tyler, suffering from a knife wound in the left arm. He stated that it had been inflicted with a small knife in the hands of James Fields, negro, during an argument on Home street. Fields was arrested. He was fined $20 and directed to pay a doctor bill of $10 this morning by Mayor William H. Dunlap.

Pioneer Charleroi Business Man Dies

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., May 19.—John H. Bowers, 68, pioneer Charleroi business man and founder of the organization which formed the neucleus for the Atlantic Seaboard Hardware Dealers' Association, died at his home here today following a lingering illness.

He was a leader in forming the Hardware Dealers' Mutual Fire Insurance Association of which he was a director.

Postpone Track Meet Until Tuesday

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 19.—The Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, which was scheduled to be held today between Geneva College and Grove City College, has been postponed on account of the continued bad weather which has put the track in a bad condition. The meet which was to have been held at Beaver Falls will be held next Tuesday afternoon.

Woman Testifies Of Mistreatment By King "Ben"

(International News Service)

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 19.—Mrs. Ruth Swanson, of South Orange, N. J., under a bitter cross fire of questions, today stood staunchly by her sordid story of mistreatment in 1914 at the hands of "King" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the House of David, under the guise of "blood purification rites."

Mrs. Swanson was testifying in the state's suit to dissolve the cult as a fraud and an immoral institution.

Mrs. Swanson said she confessed the next day to her husband, Christian L. Swanson. Then they packed and got out after receiving $200 of their original $2,200 investment in the cult upon signing a legal release and a statement that there was no immorality in the colony, she said.

BUSINESS COLLEGE

We think that our school is a good school. In fact, we have been in existence, right in the city of New Castle, since 1894, and we feel that we are stronger now than ever before. Our enrollment is the largest, for this time of the year, in the history of the school. We believe the above facts speak a good word for the school. Enroll now for the summer.

SOME OF 'KING' BEN'S TROUBLES

With the suit of the state of Michigan at St. Joseph, Mich., to dissolve the "House of David," religious cult, many "victims" have sprung up to testify against "King" Benjamin Purnell. At the top is the Humphrey family, who at one time belonged to the cult, and who assert that two of its members were unjustly shunted off to an insane asylum in Kalamazoo, Mich., when they incurred the displeasure of "Queen" Mary. Photo shows, left to right, R. Moody Humphrey, 25, Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey and (seated) Helen and Mary Humphrey. Mrs. Humphrey and her son, Moody, were the ones adjudged insane. Below are Mrs. Bessie Woodworth and Ruth Bamford Reed, two other former members of the "House of David," who allege they were attacked by the "King."

Neurasthentic Persons Scored By Doctors In National Convention

Those Who Believe Themselves Sick Will Naturally Be Sick, Contended

Jabez N. Jackson Of Kansas City Elected President Of Medical Association

BY WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The American medical profession recognizes that an ailing mind prevents the cure of and sometimes produces bodily disease.

This was revealed today at the seventy-eighth annual convention of the American Medical Association. Thousands of physicians attending the medical classes were given graphic lectures on the tragic cases of persons "who believe themselves sick." Hundreds of thousands of patients, it was said, are victims of their own fears.

The convention meanwhile neared the highspot of its business program in the election of officers of the association by the house of delegates this afternoon. Jabez N. Jackson, of Kansas City, already has been installed as president for the coming year but a new president-elect will be chosen to serve in 1928.

A score of classes were conducted throughout the capital by specialists in the various sciences of medicine and surgery. The surgeons concentrated on stomach operations, while eye, ear and nose doctors studied exhibitions of new instruments. The child specialists attended lectures on tuberculosis. Radium cures attracted other groups.

The action of the medical profession in giving increased recognition to the importance of emotional factors in the production of disease was widely discussed. Dr. Rollin T. Woodyatt, of Chicago, covered the general phases in an address as chairman of the medican section of the convention.

Special Treatment.

The neurasthenic—the person who believes himself sick—should be given special treatment, the specialists declared, because they were born that way.

"I am forced to conclude that these patients are not the victims of fortuitous circumstances," said Dr. McLester. "They are born, not made, neurasthenics. Neither social maladjustment, unfortunate environment, business reverses, domestic trials, grief nor suppressed sexual emotion is primarily responsible. Because of an inherent lack of emotional balance, they are predestined to trouble and the situations in which they find themselves play a distinctly subordinate role in the production of these troubles.

"The nervous system of this type of patient may be likened to a substandard automobile tire. For a time, it will wear and give good service but eventually, long before it has covered normal mileage, there comes a blowout."

Lafayette College Names Ideal Man

CHAS. FILLMORE

The special revival meeting being conducted at the First Church of the Nazarene opened last night with a good crowd and much interest. The service began with an altar of prayer after which Rev. Rowe led the song service, accompanied with trombone. This meeting is being conducted by the Young People's Society and Harry Dean, the president, took charge of preliminaries and announcements. He announced that a very fine young men's quartet will be present and sing at tonight's service. This quartet is from Rev. Benedum's church.

Mrs. Benedum rendered a very beautiful solo, "My Sins Rolled As High As The Mountains." Rev. Benedum, the evangelist, then preached a very timely and unctious message on "Making And Keeping Vows." His sermon was powerful and strong and stirred the congregation to new real and fresh determination to walk in every ray of light that God would shed on their pathway.

Tonight the East Liverpool quartet will sing a few specials and Rev. Benedum will again preach. Meeting begins at 7:45 p. m.

Friday night Virgil C. Finnell and Chas. Fillmore of Indiana, will speak, sing and lecture. Mr. Fillmore, the composer of "Tell Mother I'll Be There," will sing that and other pieces. Ninety beautifully steroptican slides will illustrate the lectures.

French Girl Golfer Captures Open Title In British Tourney

(International News Service)

NEWCASTLE, County Down, May 19.—The British ladies open golf championship has gone to France.

Mlle. Simone De La Chaume, eighteen year old French girl, today won the title, defeating Miss Dorothy Pearson, nineteen year old English defender, five and four, over thirty-six holes.

Mlle. De La Chaume already holds the French ladies title, and for the past four years has been prominent in European golfing circles.

Since her first sensational play in the English girls' championship several years ago there have been many predictions that she might become to golf what Mlle. Lenglen has been to tennis.

Coal Policeman Waives Hearing

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 19.—Arrested on an assault and battery charge on information filed with Alderman A. A. Cumins by Joseph Andrews, a miner of the Ccrescent mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Co., near California, Pa., Earl Starkey, a coal and iron policeman, announced today he would waive hearing for trial in court.

Bond will be furnished during the day by the Pittsburgh Coal Co., their counsel stated.

Andrews accused the policeman of entering his home and striking him with a club without giving the miner an opportunity to explain a disturbance that had been going on in the house. Andrews said he had been reprimanding his children when the policeman entered.

The blow was of such force that one of Andrews eyes was blinded and later had to be removed, the information stated.

Flood Fund Is Now Over $10,000

Expect Local Fund Will Pass $11,000 Mark By Tonight

Lawrence County's total for the Mississippi Valley Flood Relief was well over the $10,000.00 mark today and every mail was bringing in checks to Miss Jessie Wilson, secretary. By tonight it is expected that the total will be over $11,000.00 and by Saturday night it is hoped that the $14,000.00 will have been reached.

It begins to appear that the quota of $20,000.00 will not be reached, although the national quota of $15,000,000.00 has been met. With the increasing damage from the flood it is altogether likely that this figure will be pushed up to $20,000,000.00. After all, as Will Rogers puts it, "who can say what the quota should be when Ameicans are suffering?"

List Tomorrow

Because of the number of checks and cash contributions, it was impossible to tabulate the names today, but this list will be forthcoming tomorrow.

The outstanding workers in the present campaign for funds, the New Castle Police Department is still at it. Already they have turned in $1100.00 for tickets sold to the Charity Ball. $100.00 made on Du Bell the Dancing Girl and Mayor William H. Dunlap has over $600 in hand for the ball game which will be held Friday between the Police and the Garbage Department. Their total is expected to reach $2000.00 a remarkable piece of work.

In the account of the Charity Ball and Mardi Gras, mention was neglected of the A. B. D. Girls who conducted a candy booth in the lobby of the Cathedral. The oversight was entirely unintentional as these young ladies had no small part in making the affair the success it was.

Boy Scout News

Camporee

Even though the Camporee dates have been postponed, the time even now is very near—just about two weeks, in fact, to be exact, just 15 days from today. Since so many of the troops of Lawrence County Council have registered for this event, competition will be very keen. Lots of hard practice must be made to get even a passing glance.

Remember, Scouts, the Camporee will be held June 10 and 11, Friday and Saturday, at Camp John M. Phillips, the official Boy Scout camp of the Council. The purpose of this event is to show just how much real scouting each patrol and every Scout knows and how he can apply it when put on his own test under the leadership of a boy leader. It is a well affirmed fact that the Scouts of Lawrence County Council will show scouting to the best advantages.

Camp

An interesting feature of the Boy Scout camp for this feature is the plan to divide the huts into stockades, with three huts to a stockade. Traditions of the famous old scouts, Kit Carson, and Daniel Boone, and other famous pioneers, will be carried out. When the boy is assigned to a stockade he is to busy himself with finding out all about the pioneer for whom his stockade is named, then when pageantries and ceremonials are held he will be able to enact the part of the pioneer in whose stockade he is living. Of course, contests and games will be won by stockades also.

In addition to the stockades a plan has been made to have a beautiful Indian village, with three or more fine big Indian tepees painted with real Indian signs and characters. This work will be done by Owen P. Fox. An archery court has also been laid out near the Indian village so that the inhabitants of this village will become the very best of Indian users of the bow and arrow.

Remember, folks every boy in Lawrence county who is a Boy Scout or any boy who is 10 years old and wants to become a Scout when he becomes 12 years of age may come to camp. The program is arranged for boys of all ages and sizes.

Troop 5

The Elks troop 5 met Wednesday evening for the regular weekly meeting at the Elks building. A large number of Scouts were present, with Scoutmaster Davis in charge.

The fifth anniversary of the troop was celebrated. A feed was put on by the troop committee, Mr. Kurschler, Mr. Agnew, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Falls. The menu consisted of sandwiches, ice cream and cake and coffee. Each Scout member of the troop responded with either a story, a song or a speech. A very delightful time was enjoyed. The Camporee, camp registrations, Memorial Day, attendance and new members were subjects next taken up and discussed.

The next meeting of this troop will be held May 25, starting at eight o'clock, at the Elks headquarters, with Scoutmaster Ralph F. Davis in charge.

Studebaker Commander set ten world records by traveling 5000 miles in less than 5000 minutes-

BUT-

What does it mean to You?

OF COURSE, you don't want to go 5000 continuous miles at better than a-mile-a-minute. But this sensational performance proved by the most brutal test ever recorded, that anything any ordinary driver wants in speed and endurance, is child's play to THE COMMANDER.

Never before has any stock enclosed car in the world achieved such a maximum of miles in such a minimum of minutes.

33 Million Engine Explosions

To the ear, only a sound like the wind whisking through a grove; to the eye, only a fast moving bulk with contour dulled by its terrific speed . . . But within the six cylinders of The Commander's mighty engine—a fusillade of red hot explosions—over thirty-three million of them during the run! Connecting rods plunged upward and downward about eleven million times, wheels revolved over three million times.

Despite this ordeal, mechanical repairs were limited to three grease cups (damaged by hasty greasing) and a spark plug!—negligible when you consider that this astounding performance is equivalent to 25,000 miles of ordinary going.

Let Harry Hartz—America's Champion Driver—tell you out of his own experience what a stock COMMANDER will do.

Harry Hartz Says:

"It will maintain any given speed up to sixty-five miles per hour, longer, more smoothly, and at less expense per hour traveled, for gasoline, oil and repairs, than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

Figures Which Show the Strain of 5000 Miles in 4909 Minutes

Total of 33,000,000 explosions in the engine!

More than 1,100 explosions per minute in each cylinder; equivalent to more than 18 per second! About 7,000 explosions per minute in the six cylinders!

11,000,000 strokes of each piston!

9,200,000 feet, or about 1750 miles, traveled by each piston!

3,330,000 revolutions for each wheel!

This is what an engine must do to travel 5000 miles—but more than a thousand Studebaker cars have been driven 100,000 to 500,000 miles—and many of them are still in service!

Because of its super-abundant power, The Commander will perform eagerly, easily, smoothly—with no labor or effort—any and all tasks placed upon it.

Studebaker has produced in these new models, cars which will excel even the staunch dependable Studebakers of the past in low repair and maintenance costs.

It is now possible to purchase a truly great automobile at a moderate price! The Commander is justly known as "the greatest post-war achievement in automotive engineering."

Get Behind the Wheel

But drive THE COMMANDER yourself and draw your own conclusions—get behind the wheel that'll put you ahead of everything on the road—step on the throttle and feel the thrill of outstepping competition—or test it in traffic for flexibility of handling—any old rate of travel suits THE COMMANDER—it is both gentle at town speeds for a woman and a giant at top speeds for a man!

More Records!

Take the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower, and the Studebaker Big Six outsells them!

Take all the Eights in the world, as well as all the Sixes selling for less than $2500, and the Studebaker Big Six Commander out-performs and outlives them!

And take all day long for a real demonstration.

See It and Drive It TODAY!

An exact duplicate of the champion COMMANDER is ready for you and 'rarin' to go! What Harry Hartz' Commander did, any Commander will do!

Commander Sedan, $1585; Commander Victoria, $1575; (broadcloth upholstery, $1645); Commander Coupe, $1545; (with rumble seat, $1645) . . . All prices f. o. b. factory, including front and rear bumpers, snubbers all around, and four-wheel brakes. Other Studebaker and Erskine models range in price from $945 to $2245.

Croton Pupils Are Presenting Operetta Today

Over 150 children of the Croton school will present the operetta, "A Midsummer Day" this afternoon and again on Friday evening, May 20 at the Benjamin Franklin Junior High Auditorium.

Dozens of beautiful costumes made by the parents and teachers will be used in the production and the tuneful melodies and catchy airs of the operetta.

Little Miss Very Grisci has one of the two leading roles and she will present the part of the "Child" in a most charming manner. The other leading role is that of the Fairy Queen which is taken by Virginia Kissick. She will portray the rather hackned part in an original and graceful way.

Other parts including solos are taken by Charles Campbell, Dorothy Buxton, Velmour McNaughton, Joe Bonfield, Muriel Bailey, Dorothy Delp, Robert Stevenson, Jennie Isabella, Thelma Cline, Annie Polotte and Tony Perotte.

Messerly called for the repair department, but "Central" mistook it for the fire department. So when the chief, apparatus, chemicals and hose arrived at his door, Messerly explained the error.

"There was no fire, hence no fire sale," he said.

File Few Freak Wills In Lawrence County

Greater care in the preparation of wills during recent years is evidenced by documents probated at the register and recorder's office, according to Register and Recorder, Jeannette Hutton.

Many of the wills offered are on regular blanks prepared for that purpose, while others are carefully prepared on foolscap or typewriter paper. Some people prepare their own wills but the majority seek the aid of an attorney.

During recent years only two or three wills have been offered for probate which indicated haste in preparation and lack of proper materials. One of these wills was written on the back of an envelope and the other was on black paper, such as is used in taking carbon copies of writing in order books.

Wills in order to be valid, must contain the signature of the person making the will and the names of two witnesses who have seen the maker sign his or her name, and to whom the maker has stated that it is his or her will. Before the will can be probated, after the death of the maker, the witnesses must appear before the register and recorder and identify the signature.

There is a growing tendency of people to make wills earlier in life, or long before there appears to be any immediate prospect of death. Some years ago the tendency seemed to be to delay will making as long as possible, consequently more people died without having made a will.

The requirement of a valid will is that the person be of sound mind at the time that it is made. Most of the controversies in court over wills arise, when it is claimed by some of the relatives that at the time of making the will the person was not in possession of all of his or her mental faculties, having been weakened by disease. The proper time to make a will is when a person is in good health and sound mental condition.

PAIR OF OHIO MEN DROP DEAD

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19.—Edward Spencer, 45, steel worker, dropped dead while returning from work, and James Barnes, 80, resident here for 48 years, fell dead while working in his yard.

Socialist Queen

Even Socialists believe in royalty when it comes to selecting a pretty girl to reign over a jubilee such as Girard, Kas., celebrated recently. Socialistic townsfolk elected Miss Nadine Montee queen of the festivities, and a business holiday was declared to allow everyone to take part in a coronation celebration in the courthouse square.

School Glee Clubs Also On Program

Will Share School Band And Orchestra Program Next Tuesday

Another feature has been added to the Annual Ne-Ca-Hi Band and Orchestra Concert which takes place at the Franklin Junior High School on Tuesday of next week, in the combined Girls and Boys Glee Clubs of the Senior High School.

These two organizations have been meeting with favor in the school plays and are working together on some new numbers which will have their first public performance at this concert.

In previous years, the Band and Orchestra have put on the entire program, but this custom has been considerable changed this year in the addition of the Glee Clubs and also in the procuring of a famous attraction to add color to the program. The attraction, as announced previously, is the well-known Graham McNamee, the famous announcer.

The appearance of Mr. McNamee on the program is a matter of sufficient importance to attract a crowd itself, and when there is added to this the great local interest in the Senior High School musical organizations, the concert next week should be the greatest success of any held heretofore.

Members of the Glee Clubs who will sing next week are:

Blodwin Davis, Gladys Miller, Katherine Preston, Mary E. Rhodes, Florence Scott.

Sara Cranmer, Cecil Morris Gladys Thompson, Marie Wilson.

Louise Davies, Mellie Osbourne, Isabell Thomas, Martha Wilson.

Ruth Campbell, Olive Grassel, Anna Greene, Ruth Stanles.

Richard Blaine, Carl Schmidt, Mike Lelenko, Oscar Patton, Sherwood Johns.

Charles Nealis, Sherwood Brown, Edward Teece, Sloane Allen, Bruce Troutman, Paul McWilliams.

Paul Wilson, Oren MacFarland, Joseph Cozza.

Herbert Smith, Jack Huston, Norman Lewis, Gilbert Powell.

19 KILLED, 431 HURT BY AUTOS IN STATE SO FAR THIS WEEK

HARRISBURG, May 19.—Incomplete reports received by the motor vehicle bureau for the first three days of the week disclosed that 19 persons were killed and 431 injured in various parts of the state, the department of highways announced today.

Four persons were killed by "hit-and-run" drivers, one in Philadelphia, one near Uniontown, one near Pottstown, and one near Pittsburgh. Two men were arrested but two escaped.

In making public this report, Benjamin G. Eynon, registrar, declared his intention of rigidly enforcing the law which prohibits use of dirty, swinging or obscured license plates.

By laying 1,121 bricks in one hour, William Mignes, an English workman, is believed to have set up a new world's record.

METEOR BURSTS IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—A sputtering "ball of fire" roared out of the clouds and exploded near the General hospital in South Kansas City shortly before midnight last night. The blast occurred so close to the ground that a patch of grass was burned. No trace of a meteor was found except several small holes in a yard, the largest about two inches in diameter.

The detonation was heard for several blocks and caused numerous telephone calls to police and fire departments.

"AN ORGANIZATION DEVOTED TO PERSONAL SERVICE"

Modern Education's Defects Pointed Out By Congressman

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—When I was a kid I was taught that the more schooling you had the better.

Grammar school wasn't enough; high school barely.

If you wanted to be any better than an ignorant foreigner you had to go to college. You might forget all about it later but it disciplined your mind anyway.

We didn't all go but the kid who didn't was regarded as having overlooked his life's best bet or having been robbed of something.

It was felt also that some college had been flim-flammed.

Now, about every so often, the president of one or another of our big universities breaks out substantially as follows:

"Too blame high a percentage of the kids who attend this institution of learning are congenital boneheads. College can't do anything for 'em. They oughta be out earning a living. They waste their time here. What's more, they waste OUR time.

"There oughta be some way of keeping kids OUTA college who got no business there."

At first I thought this was a new kind of college professorial snobbishness. Then it got so persistent it puzzled me. Finally I decided to investigate.

For educational lore, call on Congressman Brooks Fletcher.

He's on the house education committee. In my opinion he's the crackerjack member—anyway the crackerjack OHIO member. Besides, he worked in a steel mill after HE got out of college, so I felt sure he wasn't snobbish.

"Why, you see," explained the congressman, "colleges originally were intended to fit candidates for just three callings—the church, law and medicine.

"Their training was almost indispensable in any of these callings; to the aspirant for a steel mill job it was mighty little use.

"College courses have been immensely broadened since then, but they haven't kept pace with the increase in the number of our occupations.

"The university president who says certain students aren't the right raw material for his institution means rather that his institution hasn't anything to offer that those students need."

"Even," continued the representative, "if a university has a line of study perfectly suited to a given student's requirements and he's taking something else, they're wasting one another's time.

"Before a student's admitted to any institution of higher learning, it should be determined what training will do him the most good.

"If he himself doesn't know, it's the school's business to investigate until it finds out. Otherwise, yes, unless by pure accident, his education will be a waste of time."

"Suppose," said the Ohio congressman, "a sick man called at a hospital and asked to be operated on.

"'What for?' asks the superintendent.

"'What operations have you?' inquires the patient.

"'We have an operation for appendicitis that's given good results in many instances,' says the doctor, 'or we can trephine your skull, or we can give you a nice amputation of the leg.'

"'Go ahead,' says the pitient, 'and amputate my leg.'

"A nice way to pick out an operation!—without a diagnosis, to find out what ails the man.

"No more can an education be picked out arbitrarily, to fit any and every case."

Seventeen Seniors Signed To Teach

Many Of Westminster Graduates Of This Year To Become Instructors

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 19.—At least 17 members of the senior class at Westminster college have signed contracts to enter the teaching profession next year. Many other members of the class plan to follow suit but as yet have not signed on the dotted line.

Those who have definitely decided on their profession for next year are: Miss Mary Stewart of Freeport, at Freeport High; Jas. Patterson, of Mercer, at Mercer; Miss Nancy Miller of Butler, at Butler; Brown Bricker of North Braddock, at North Braddock; Miss Matha Wallace of Parnassus, at Parnassus; Harry Newell of Sharon, at Parnassus; Miss Elizabeth McKnight of Volant, at East Brook; Miss Helen McConaghy of New Castle, at New Castle; Miss Mae Sands of New Castle, at New Castle; Lloyd Shaner of Connellsville, at Masontown; Miss Dolly Cassidy of Burgettstown, at Burgettstown; William Wilt of Ligonier, at Ligonier; Paul Montgomery of New Castle, at Mt. Jackson; Miss Mary Braham of New Wilmington, at Sandy Lake; Miss Mary Smith of New Wilmington at Bessemer; Miss Willa Boyd of New Wilmington at Mt. Jackson; William Thomas of Farrel at Farrell, and Miss Margaret Glenn of Sharpsville.

Old Folks Need a Mild Laxative —Not a "Physic"

Most men and women past fifty must give to the bowels some occasional help, else they suffer from constipation. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect a gentle aid to weak bowels.

Is your present laxative, in whatever form, promoting natural bowel "regularity"—or must you purge and "physic" every day or two to avoid sick headache, dizziness, biliousness, colds, or sour, gassy stomach?

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin helps to establish natural, regular bowel movement even for those chronically constipated. It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Lanfley Field, Va.,
May 16, 1927.

New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Mr. Rentz:

I am just writing you a few lines to let you know that I am receiving the New Castle News regularly at the Post here.

I came down here the 8th of April and I wasn't here a week until I found that I missed reading the paper from home. I wrote home to my mother and asked her to send me the paper when she got through reading it. Well, it was a day or so before I got any mail from home, and then I received a couple of letters and a couple of papers.

There is another fellow down here from New Castle, George Louden. Also there is a fellow in my squadron from Ellwood City. When I get done with the paper I pass it on. I read the paper and then give it to the fellow from Ellwood City and after he reads it I take the paper over and give it to Louden. Then when I get done with the papers and go to Ft. Monroe—which is just a few miles from Langley Field—I take the papers along and give them to a fellow over there (William Custes) who is also from New Castle. In this way there are four soldiers who are receiving the News from home and keep posted on what is doing back in New Castle, Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania is well represented in the Air Corps here at Langley Field. About 90 per cent of the men here and in Fort Monroe also are from the State of Pennsylvania.

Thanking you very much for your good service and hope you will keep it up, I remain.

Yours truly,
Frank S. Minskey.

Progress In High School Mathematics

M. G. Wilson, Teacher In Senior High, Shows Development In Recent Years

Following is given the progress report for the year of 1926-27 in the mathematics department of the Senior High School as arranged by by Malcolm G. Wilson, teacher in this line of study in the school. Many interesting notes of development will be noticed.

During the year 1926-1927 there has been made in the mathematics department of the New Castle senior high school some progress worthy of mention. Among these elements are included some entirely new items and some successful developments of systems that were tried before.

The laboratory system of mathematics which operated successfully last year in the second course of algebra has been continued this year with better success. Its principal benefit lies in the fact that leaders are developed and initiative brought to the front. As teaching in coming to the point of individual instruction, this is about the only known method that is practical for large classes.

To advance this idea of developing individuality and initiative, project work has been carried on in all of the "math" classes. In plane geometry, pupils have, along with the class assignments, individual assignments about one day in two weeks. This special work holds the pupil's interest and makes him a real contributor to the progress of the class. Perhaps he has some special course to review for the benefit of the class. He has his diagrams all ready when the class comes in, and a great part of the class period for one day is given entirely to him. This is a modification of the plan now in operation at the University High School, University of Chicago.

This idea is also worked out in the trigonometry class by having the students report on engineering feats, current articles in engineering magazines, articles from science and mathematic journals, books on the history of mathematics and the contributions of great mathematicians. The object of this is to acquaint the advanced students with the proper literature along their lines of work and to develop the habit of reading. It is supplementary work and the time of the class is taken only for those who especially want to give a report before the class.

Another work of this kind in the trigonometry class is the teaching of the use of the slide rule. Technical students are encouraged to buy slide rules and everyone is taught the most common uses of this rule. This will help the student in his college work.

Time tests are used in solid geometry. All of the students' interest in the subject is kept up in this way.

The use of objective tests in the plane geometry class is the one outstanding feature of advancement in the math department of our high school during the present year. They have not only been found to be more accurate in testing the pupil, but they have interested the student and acted as a time saver for the teacher. Moreover they have done away with the ancient habit of memorizing theorems only for the purpose of preparing a lesson or preparing for an examination. They have assisted the teacher in finding out what the pupil really has not mastered and thus individual instruction is simplified. The value of objective tests has been found to be much greater than was expected when it was started.

Although from medals won or honors received we have little more to show in the mathematics department work than we had in former years, yet one student won honorable mention in mathematics at the University of Pittsburgh Interscholastic contest this year.

Most of the streets in the large cities of China are given very high-sounding names, such as "The Street of Righteousness and Charity".

GARDNER

W. H. Gaston of Gardner suffered a slight stroke last Wednesday, but is somewhat improved today.

Miss Lois Powell of New Castle was a recent guest of Miss Margaret Lytle of East New Castle.

The Male quartet from The Peoples Mission in New Castle will sing at the county home next Sunday afternoon, and Charles Bailey of the Mission will be the speaker.

Mrs. E. O. Alexander and son Francis of Gardner spent several days with relatives at North Girard, Pa.

Mrs. Florence Johnson of East New Castle who has been quite ill for some time is not improving as was hoped a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nye and little daughter Doris of Wurtemburg called on Mr. Nye's mother in Gardner last Sunday.

COUNTY AUDITORS REPORT FOR THE YEAR OF 1926

Auditor's Office, Court House, New Castle, Pa., Jan. 3, 1927.

We, the undersigned Auditors in and for the County of Lawrence and State of Pennsylvania, have this day met according to law to audit and adjust the several accounts of the Treasurer, Commissioners, Sheriff and Coroner of Lawrence County, and transact such other business as may be lawfully brought before us. W. M. B. Hogue having resigned as County Auditor and A. Scott Kildoo having been duly appointed by the Court to fill the vacancy, the Board of County Auditors is now composed of W. W. Thompson, H. C. Hunter and A. Scott Kildoo.

W. W. THOMPSON,
A. SCOTT KILDOO,
H. C. HUNTER,

Now, February 26, 1927, H. C. Hunter having resigned as County Auditor, the Court having accepted said resignation and Forrest R. Hunter having thereupon been appointed to fill the vacancy by the Court, we have this day met as a Board consisting of the undersigned members.

W. W. THOMPSON,
A. SCOTT KILDOO,
FORREST R. HUNTER.

David E. Nessle, County Treasurer, in account with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the year 1926.

Flowers And Plants By Thousands Are Seen At Welker Greenhouses

As Memorial Day approaches the greenhouses of F. E. Welker on the old Harbor Road resemble a tropical sunset of color with their 32,000 of geraniums, many of which are just bursting into blooms of scarlet, pink and white and intermediate shades.

Each year, Mr. Welker prepares for the Memorial Day season with thousands of plants and not only are there geraniums by the thousands but also thousands of petunias, verbenas, fussias and many others to add variety to the picture and the coloring.

Of this mass of blooms, already some 8,000 of the most beautiful geranium plants have been ordered and await a pleasant day for the owner to come and get them and set them out, one customer alone has an order of 2,500 plants. Mr. Welker says that if the weather brightens up the next 10 days will see their force of 11 workers busy filling orders and delivering thousands of plants.

Nor are the Welker greenhouses devoted to flowering plants alone for over 300,000 vegetable plants planted in flats are awaiting the market within the next few weeks. These plants include tomatoes, peppers, egg-plants, and cabbages. Over 80,000 pepper plants of all sizes may be found there in a thriving condition.

And as the weather warms up the Welker gardens will show over 30 acres planted to tomatoes, cabbages, lettuce and sweet corn. For several acres are already planted and growing nicely. A plot of 2 acres of over 100,000 lettuce plants are now nearly ready for marketing; 4 acres of sweet corn has broken through the soil and the 3-inch stalks are showing green in the field; 2 acres of cabbage with stalks over 5 inches long are showing green in spite of the gloomy days of the past week; and the first of 9,000 tomato plants occupy a plot with sturdy 6-inch plants.

The seven greenhouses will not be left vacant for as Memorial Day will see them denuded of flowering geranium and other spring plants their place will be taken by wee chrysanthamums and fall blooming flowers. In fact the first of 19,000 "mums" are already occupying several benches in the greenhouse. And thousands of cuttings are being prepared for the little rooting beds and then will be

Cascade Park Ready For Greatest Season; Many Big Features

Cascade Park, opens for the season next Saturday with a greater array of amusements, superior attractions and better accommodations than ever before in its history as one of the leading amusement centers of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

New amusements have been added, one of the finest dance orchestras of the country has been secured under contract and every inch of the 80 and more acres of natural beauty has been groomed for the delight of the thousands of visitors who will find in Cascade their ideal of a one-day outing objective or an evening of dancing and amusement.

The great $125,000 swimming pool has been completed and is ready to accommodate 5,000 bathers at a time. This great triple pool, with the large division for general bathing and swimming, the fine deep diving pool and the shallow pool for children, was used the latter part of last season in an incompleted state. Every detail of it has now been finished and the great concrete basin, largest of the kind, in this section, is fully equipped with administration building, dressing rooms for men and women, rest rooms and facilities for the best of water sports.

It will be the scene this season of many swimming events, interesting alike to swimmers and spectators, the broad boardwalk surrounding the pools affording a delightful promenade and the grandstand having accommodations for 3,000 spectators.

A real treat is in store for dancers in Rainbow pavilion. The pavilion has been redecorated and the promenade has been rearranged and enclosed in lattice work. Music for dancing will be furnished by an orchestra of wide reputation and of extraordinary ability. They are O. H. Brobst's Palace Garden Entertainers, who come direct to Cascade from Tampa, Fla., where they have just completed their fifth successful season at the exclusive Roseland ballroom. Last summer they played the entire season at Lake Minnequa Park, Pueblo, Col.

Not only is this organization an exceptional dance orchestra, but it is an entertaining feature as well, featuring several soloists of unusual ability and a novelty quartet. Manager Carl L. Shaner has been highly congratulated by those who have heard the orchestra at Tampa this past winter in his success in signing the Entertainers for Cascade.

Heading the list of new amusements is "Laugh in the Dark," a tunnel ride with mysteries and thrills that are new to park devices. This is entirely a new amusement this season, the first to be built anywhere being that contracted for at Cascade.

The standard and exclusive features at Cascade has been enlarged and improved. The famous Gorge Ride has been enlarged, larger motors have been installed and three-car trains will be operated, adding to the thrills of this ride which cannot be duplicated. A new bridge has been built across the Gorge Ride from the midway leading to the swimming pool. This not only gives easy access to the pool, but also gives a charming view of the beauties of the gorge.

The old bathhouse at Crystal Lake have been removed and in their stead there have been erected commodious rest rooms for men and women. On the lake a fleet of new row boats, canoes and power launch will give every facility for those who enjoy the water.

The Kiddies' Park, a veritable park within the park, has been newly equipped throughout. In addition to the miniature midway with amusements just for the youngsters there is a complete free playground with teeter-totters, swings, slides, sandboxes and other devices that delight boys and girls. The Kiddies' Park is in charge of a trained woman attendant at all times.

The picnic grove and pavilions with free cookhouse and other facilities will be the scene of an unusually large number of big picnics this year, many having already been scheduled by organizations from all parts of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio.

Altogether the Cascade management looks forward to one of the biggest and most enjoyable years the park has ever known.

Nothing is Just as Good as the "Red Star"
Many competitive salesmen pay us compliments when they say that their Oil Stove is as good as the "Red Star." They recognize the leadership of the "Red Star" and can only hope that their's is "nearly as good." Remember the "Red Star" gives you the best results known to oil stoves—it has no wicks, no rings, no odor, no fumes and as the oil is NOT UNDER PRESSURE there is no danger.

Sacred Concert At Croton M. E. Church On Sunday Evening

To do their bit in helping to raise funds for the flood sufferers, the Sunday School Orchestra of the Croton avenue M. E. church will hold a sacred concert Sunday evening at eight o'clock.

A silver offering will be taken, the same to be turned over to the local Red Cross Society. The Orchestra under the direction of G. Earl Williams has been working hard in preparing this program and a treat is in store for all those who attend. Soloists of the evening will be Fred Brewster, trombonist, David Reese, tenor and Mrs. A. C. Bernard, soprano.

The concert will occupy the hour usually devoted to the evening service. This is the first concert by the orchestra for some time and a large crowd will probably attend. The following is the program.

FARM FACTS

TIMELY REMINDERS From The Pennsylvania State College

Feed Bees to Save Lives—Keep the strength of the honey bee colony up to standard by preventing starvation this spring. Look at the hives and if they do not contain the equivalent of three frames of honey, begin feeding sugar syrup to the bees.

Iris Fine Cut Flower—The iris, or flag as its old-fashioned name is known, makes a fine cut flower, say landscape architects of the Pennsylvania State College. In cutting leave plenty of foliage for the promotion of growth.

Do Not Pasture Calves Too Soon—Spring calves should not be turned on pasture until they are four to six months of age. Less digestive trouble and more satisfactory growth will result.

Garden Furnishes March Food—The ideal garden provides plenty of vegetables which not only keep the family well supplied during the growing season but also provide food to be canned, dried, or stored for the winter months.

Grow a Ton Litter—Be sure to enter that litter in the Keystone Ton Litter club before May 31 the final date for nominations. You will find that it pays to grow a ton of pork per litter in 180 days.

Improve Dairy Barn—Now is the season to look over the dairy stable and see what improvements or changes can be made that will lessen labor or increase the comfort of the cows. Less labor decreases costs and greater cow comfort incerases yields and profits.

The horrors of war are about forgotten except in those cities that have daylight saving time.

Prohibition has taught us one thing. You can't really talk anything to death.

Heal Shin Diseases For 35 Cents

The minute you apply Peterson's Ointment to that burning, inflamed, eczema tortured skin its mighty healing power brings blessed relief.
But better still after a few applications, the itching is all gone and your skin is clear and free from eruptions or roughness. It's the one great skin remedy that every druggist is glad to recommend.
Get a large box for only 35 cents at any druggists—and money back if it isn't the best you ever used. Always keep Peterson's Ointment in the house. Fine for burns, scalds, bruises, sunburn, chafing and aching inflamed feet. There is nothing better for itching eczema and piles.

Want Permit To Prescribe More Whiskey

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The American Medical Association decided Wednesday to beard the prohibition lion and make an active fight to repeal the law which limits the amount of whisky a physician may prescribe for a patient. The present limit is a pint in 10 days.

The association's house of delegates unanimously passed a resolution at the morning session denouncing the law and authorizing the board of trustees to co-operate with government officials in presenting a bill to the next Congress repealing the present restrictive act.

What Would You Do With An Elephant If You Had One?

"Jiggs" of "Bringing Up Father" got one as a gift from a Rajah of India. He tried to put him in a garage, but alas! He found the pachyderm following him around with the garage on his back!

And from then on, wherever "Jiggs" goes, the elephant is sure to be along, like Mary's little lamb! But a lamb is not so big a problem as an elephant—

And then, what can one name an elephant?

For the best name for "Jiggs'" elephant, George McManus, the artist, offers a prize of $50.

Get acquainted with "Father's" ponderous pet. Then send in your name suggestions to George McManus, care of The New Castle News.

NEW CRACKER HAS NON-TICKLE CRUMBS FOR BED

CHICAGO, May 19.—Ever since the first cracker was invented, it has been at once a source of sustenance and of trouble. Children have been punished, divorces granted and murder done because of eating crackers in bed, but a new light is dawning.

There is now on the market a cracker that may safely be eaten in bed. It has crumbs so soft that they will not scratch or otherwise disturb the lightest sleeper—a round cracker with no sharp corners to add discomfort.

Biscuit and cracker bakers of the United States, in session here, assert that there are 157 varieties of crackers and biscuits on the market.

"There's an appropriate cracker for every time of day and night," said R. T. Stokes of New York, secretary of the association. "There's a cracker for every type of person from the baby to the dyspeptic."

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

SURROUNDED BY THE ENEMY

For all she was so brave, Mother Field Mouse was frightened. The boy could see her gray body shaking all over as she peered in every direction. She stood her ground, though. Not once did it seem to occur to her to run away and leave her children to take care of themselves. The boy felt sorry for the little lady.

"There is no snake near—at least I hope not!" said he. "Yet mother Field Mouse, I am afraid you have to fear someone quite as cruel. Willie Weasel is on the warpath. He intends to come down here into the meadow to attack you and the children in your home and to see to it that there is not one of you escapes."

"Eeeeeee! What terrible news!" wailed Mrs. Mouse. "What an unfortunate thing it is to be born a Mouse. I do believe that there is not another Four-Foot in all the world that has so many enemies. Worst foe of all is Slippery Snake. Green as the grass itself, he slides along so softly that no one can hear him coming, and glides into the clump beside our house. Sometimes he pokes his head through the side door and swallows a baby or two, or when there is nobody home he waits until one of the family returns from the fields and darts down upon him so swiftly that there is no chance to run away. Snake sneaked upon my own dear father just in that way one night when he was coming home to dinner after his hard day's work gathering grain. To be sure, Father had eaten as he worked—you couldn't blame him—and he was plump, so that is why Snake chose him instead of my Mother."

"Next comes Weasel. That bloodthirsty wretch will nose his way right into our nest."

"And Marsh Hawk! He's a relentless enemy, too. Maybe you would not think that a bird flying in the air would catch sight of the grass swaying as one of us Mice ventures out from the sheltering clump. But he does. Yes, siree, his bright eye sees the slightest movement, and out of the skies without a moment's warning, down he swoops, and off one of us is carried, struggling, in the fellow's beak.

"Even the Two-Legs hate us. I have a cousin who lives in the house of a Two Legs, and he tells me that the Big Four-Foot who goes on Two sets out nice smelly cheese for him to eat, and when Cousin goes to get it something sharp as a Weasel's tooth closes on his leg or his tail, and if he didn't watch out it would squeeze his body until he could not breathe, and he would die. A trap he calls it. Cousin lost his tail only last week. And even here in the meadow, where we are not in their way at all, the Two-Legs hunt us and when they find us they kill us or set the cat on us. Eeeee! Last summer a big black whiskered cat ate up my five little children. When Father and I came home we could scarcely find the place where we had lived. There wasn't so much as the floor left of our beautiful house. That wicked creature had torn it all to pieces."

Next: "Once a Foe, Never a Friend."

Boost New Castle By Helping Troop B Of The National Guard

Editor News:

It is my purpose to throw some light upon the commercial importance of a military organization to its own community.

I will say nothing of the moral obligations and patriotic impulses which should appeal to all American citizens, but will confine myself to hard facts, plain figures, dollars and cents, to show why the interest of a community demand not the passive, but the active support in recruiting the local military company to its maximum, but in keeping it filled with the best young men in the community.

Any industry, business or organization which will bring into a community from outside money from outside to circulate among its citizens and dealers, is of decided importance to business interests.

It is in this fact that Troop B of this city, is of commercial importance. The restaurants, grocers, clothing stores, horse owners, lumber and fuel dealers have all received a part, in fact every dealer in the city has received a part, either first or second-hand, or in some more remote transaction. And bear in mind, this money came direct from the military funds of the state and United States and could have been brought no other way. Just how much this might bring here in five, 10, 20, 50 years you can determine for yourselves. Just how much the dealers have profited by bringing $3,500 a year, into this community, would be difficult to determine, but you must admit it has helped, and every member of this troop is interested in anything that helps the business of this city.

Now, did you ever take time to think of how many enterprises we have that are not bringing money into this town. Our merchants send their money out of town to buy supplies, the gas and water and electric light companies, after deducting operating expenses, send the profits away from town to pay dividends.

Now, don't misunderstand me. I am not finding fault with these things. They are largely business conditions, and cannot be helped. We want things which this community cannot produce, so we must purchase elsewhere. I simply want to emphasize the fact that the tendency is to send money away from town. The greater reason we should give our active support to anything that will help to bring it back.

I have yet to find a business man that don't believe our military company is a good thing, and wishes to help and will say to our captain, "When you want a little money call on us, and we will help you."

We are grateful for that kind of support, which while very essential, is not the kind we most need; it is not the kind that will say to a son, a brother, a friend or an employe, "Troop B is a good thing for the town and for the young men. I wish you would join it. I will arrange to let you attend drills on Friday evenings, and arrange your annual vacations that you may attend the camp of instruction. Anything that boosts the military company boosts the town, and I will help you in any way I can, anything that brings money into this town helps business."

We need that class of men that will help to make this company permanent by encouraging its officers and men in purchasing a site for an armory so that those young men that are subject to any call to arms, to any part of the world, may have suitable quarters in which to meet, that they might the more easily acquire that training and instruction that will make them fit for any call that they might have, either in our own land or foreign climes.

Now the officers and men of the military company are desirous of having a home of their own, one that will be commodious and have ample facilities for the great work of making our citizens soldiers, and safe-guarding those things entrusted to their care.

Will the substantial men of this city help those earnest officers and men to get a site, well located, for an armory, that will be an adornment to the town, costing at least $30,000, erected and paid for by the state, or will they feel that they are doing their full duty by merely saying Troop B is a good thing, we are glad we have a military company in town?"

Did you ever think that those men attend drills once a week the year around, and that numbers of those men have been drilling weekly for three-four, five, six and eight years or more, without honor, appreciation or financial reward, in quarters that are often inadequate for even the merest physical comforts, and always too small for their needs? Don't you think they deserve better treatment, a permanent home at least? Wouldn't you help them all you could to purchase a site, so the state could erect them an armory and by so doing, insure the merchants of this city a greater, steady income for untold years, in the future, till wrong and violence have ceased, and wars shall be no more?

Just An Old Top,
CHARLES V. KELLEY.

SEA CAPTAIN ILL FROM EXPOSURE IN BOAT AFTER WRECK

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19.—Ill from exposure in an open boat following the wrecking April 25 of his ship in the Gulf of Mexico, Captain Walter Urwiler, 56, is in serious condition in a local hospital. He was stricken in Girard, near here, where he had gone to see a relative of Joseph Larson, his chief mate, who lost his life in the disaster. Urwiler pledged Larson, before the latter's death, that he would seek his relatives in Northwestern Ohio, and apprise them of his fate.

The "Acacia," Captain Urwiler's boat, capsized during the hurricane which swept Texas and the Gulf of Mexico late in April.

MINER HANGS SELF TO DOOR KNOB, USING NECKTIE FOR NOOSE

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 19.—By hanging himself from a door knob with a necktie, Leo Krawczyk, 33, a miner and father of four children, committed suicide, early yesterday, at his home, in Conemaugh. His body was found by his wife. He had tried several times before to end his life but each attempt had been frustrated.

Instant Death to Roaches, Ants and Bed-Bugs

Yes, instant death to bed-bugs, roaches or ants. The moment P.D.Q., the new chemical discovery touches these insects they die. Can do no damage to your springs, or furniture; won't rot or stain clothing. P.D.Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of pesky insects. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures, coats their eggs, and stops them from hatching and multiplying. A 35c package of this golden chemical will make a quart of mixture—so deadly it will kill a million bed-bugs. P.D.Q. can also be had in double strength liquid form—ready for use. Free potent spout enables you to reach hard-to-get-at places with ease. Get P.D.Q. at your druggist's today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

BAND GIVES CONCERT

The orchestra of the Senior High school presented a concert to the students last week and so to keep up to date, the band, under the direction of LaVerne E. Irvine "strutted it's stuff," Wednesday morning.

The fine program which the band presented was enjoyed by the students immensely.

The program is as follows:
1. Don Quixote.
2. Pasedina Day.
3. Trombonium.
4. Stars and Stripes.
5. As an exit march the band played "Idolizing."

PRIZES AWARDED

The awarding of prizes to the students selling the greatest number tickets for the plays which were presented at the Senior high school recently, preceded the concert by the school band at the chapel exercises held Wednesday, May 18, third period.

Miss Julia McClenahan took first prize in the selling of tickets for both plays. For her efforts she as awarded a total of $10, $5 for each play. Miss McClenahan sold 71 tickets for the "Show Off," and 94 tickets for "Charm." The students also gave loud applause.

The other winners are as follows: For the "Show Off" Virginia Reeher took second prize and Norman Cotton took third prize. Miss Reeher sold 38 tickets and Cotton 35.

For "Charm" Ilona Patterson, selling 93 tickets took second prize while the third prize was divided between Jack Christman and Wilbur Downing, both having sold 47 tickets.

GIRL RESERVES NAME DELEGATES

At a meeting of the Girl Reserves club of the Senior high school, held Wednesday, May 18 delegates to the Girl Reserves conference to be held at Kiski, were named as follows:—Mary Elizabeth Gibson, president of the club; Elizabeth Gilfillan, vice president; Virginia Slee, treasurer and Arabella Coban, social committee, chairman.

These delegates will attend the conference providing that funds can be secured to cover the expense of making the trip.

ELECTION STILL UNKNOWN

The new officers of the Senatus Romanus, a Senior high school organization, are still unknown.

An election of officers was held at the meeting of the club, Monday, May 16, but the results have not yet been announced.

Complete Plans For Opening Of Country Club For Season

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—Complete plans for the Decoration Day opening and the summer schedule were laid, at a get-together meeting of the board of directors and the chairmen of the various committees at the Ellwood City Country Club last evening, at which time a six o'clock dinner was served to fifty members.

President John W. Offutt presided over the business meeting.

Entertainment, W. R. Johnson, General Chairman.

Greens, John Powell, chairman.

Handicap, Loring Gelbach, chairman.

House, Dr. Carl W. Hayes, chairman.

Golf Contest, T. A. Daley, chairman.

Music Committee, H. A. Harris, L. Blandford, J. H. Heberling.

Decorations, J. F. Moltroup, Ralph Conner, L. Blandford.

Invitation, W. L. Dean, J. H. Heberling.

Floor, B. J. Bell, L. F. Butler, H. E. Passmore.

Refreshment, H. F. Seidel.

Reception, A. D. Campbell, L. F. Butler, Ralph Conner, W. M. Seaton, R. C. Steifel, Jr.

Saturday, May 28, is the day set for the opening of the club-house. There will be a golf tournament in the afternoon, and a dinner dance for members only.

Sunday, May 29, there will be a golf tournament. W. L. Dean and W. M. Seaton will arrange for special music and the club-house will be open to members and their friends. Decoration Day, May 30, there will be a flag golf tournament and winner will officiate at raising of new flag. The ladies' committee will have charge of the afternoon entertainment. In the evening there will be a dance for members only.

In discussing arrangements for the women's entertainment, Mrs. L. L. Gelbach told of the work the women members of the club had done toward the furnishing of the new clubhouse.

Thursday afternoon card parties will be continued but will be open only to members and out-of-town guests. For those who are not interested in bridge, other entertainment will be provided. A sub-committee, headed by Mrs. Thomas Haines, will arrange this entertainment for June.

An innovation in the woman's parties will be an evening bridge, the last week of every month. This will be for members who cannot come in the afternoon. Miss Louise Barton will serve as chairman of the committee for the evening parties.

The summer's program will include golf tournaments for women members. There will also be dinner parties followed by bridge for men and women.

The beautifully furnished clubhouse and the inviting greens are in readiness for the summer opening.

Mrs. Cora V. Tonge, of Washington, D. C., sister of the late A. F. N. Thomas, is a guest at the Thomas home in Glenn avenue.

May Day Pageant Postponed Until Some Later Date

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—The May Day festival, to have been an event of this afternoon on the high school field back of the Lincoln high school has been postponed on account of rainy weather.

While no definite date for the festival has been decided upon it will probably be held next week if the field is sufficiently dry.

Girl Scouts To Have Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Girl Scouts of Ellwood City and Ewing Park are looking forward with great anticipation to their mothers and daughters banquet at the First Baptist church tonight.

There are 160 reservations.

Second-class badges will be awarded by Miss Nettie Leoffler, regional director of Wheeling, to a number of girls. Scout songs and a general good time will be the order of the evening.

Girl Scout captains are Bernice Wilson, Mrs. H. E. King; Ewing Park, Mrs. F. H. Tomasson; Bob-o-link, Miss Hilma Dahl, and Nightingale, Miss Elizabeth Lape.

Bernice Wilson troop will have as its special guest Mrs. J. M. Stoughton, their original leader.

The banquet will be served by the Doremus Club.

Parking Space For Ellwood Motorists

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Filling a long felt need of Ellwood motorists, comes the news that they are to have a public parking place, to relieve the Saturday night congestion.

The plot of ground between the rear of the First National Bank and the Pennsylvania and Lake Erie station has been set aside for this purpose. Beginning Saturday, May 21, there will be lighting and police protection in the parking ground.

Owing to the re-surfacing of Lawrence avenue, which will not be completed before fall, the need for more parking space has become urgent.

TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—The Intermediate society of the United Presbyterian church will give an entertainment in the church auditorium entitled "Aunt Harriet's Night Out," Friday evening, May 20.

B. J. Bell leaves today for a business trip of two or three days in Erie, Pa.

Bosses Bald Heads

Judge Frederick A. Hubbard of Greenwich, Conn., president of the Bald-Headed Club of America, says if all the 4,000 members of his organization throughout the nation attended a theatre together, police reserves would have to be called out to prevent the scramble for the first row. Bald heads, of course, are traditionally believed to sit only in the first row. (There may be a few exceptions.)

Rain And Tears Make Kids Weep

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—"They sure did play us dirty" wept one small boy as he trudged home from an hour's wait for a circus parade that did not come, on account of rain. Whether he meant the circus man or the weatherman was not clear, but who expected anything to be clear under the gray clouds of yesterday?

The small boy was not the only disappointed one, for folks came from everywhere, big ones, little ones, in autos, buggies and perambulators, and awaited drearily on Lawrence for the tinsel glory of the circus procession, while the man with the gay balloons marched back and forth.

However, the toy balloons were the only part of the circus parade that came, and the disappointed hordes, like refugees of the Mississippi flood, drifted unhappily back from whence they came.

Lutheran Church To Have Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—The mothers and daughters banquet of the Trinity Lutheran church will be an event of next Wednesday, May 25. Mrs. Clarence Wallace is chairman of the banquet committee.

Surprise Shower Honors Member Leaving Town

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—Honoring Mrs. Louis Haberman, who leaves with her family for a motor trip to the west coast next week the Willing Workers of the Trinity Lutheran church presented her with gifts of lovely handkerchiefs at their meeting yesterday.

Presentation of the gifts followed a tureen dinner enjoyed by the ladies of the church of which Mrs. Haberman is an active member. After the dinner a delightful social time was enjoyed at which Mrs. Haberman received many good wishes to follow her on her journey.

Rotary Club Will Have No Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—The Rotary Club will have no meeting this evening as the joint meeting in Rochester Tuesday evening took the place of the regular weekly gathering, in the First Presbyterian church.

Twenty-five Rotarians from Ellwood attended the joint meeting and heard the splendid talk of "Daddy" Allen, in behalf of the crippled children movement.

Next week there will be a Rotary dinner in the Presbyterian church as usual.

Important Meeting Of Pythian Sisters

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—Alma Temple No. 98 of the Pythian Sisters will meet tonight at the Pythian hall on Fourth street. Meeting will start at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to be present and plans will be completed for the entertainment of all local Knights of Pythias, their wives and sweethearts on May 26.

Mrs. Myrtle Stoner is general chairman and will select her assistants at this meeting. The members of the degree staff are also requested to be present for practice after the business meeting. The details of the May 26 meeting will be announced at a later date.

Ladies Aid Meets At Wright Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—Mrs. Harvey Wright, president of the Ladies' Aid society of the United Presbyterian church, entertained the members at her home in Wayne avenue yesterday afternoon. Arrangements were made for their anual bazaar and supper to be held in the early fall and all comittees were appointed. Mrs. Wright served lunch at the close of the afternoon.

Margaret Pugh Tureen Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—The Margaret Pugh class of the First Presbyterian church had its regular monthly meeting and a tureen dinner in the basement of the church last evening at six o'clock.

There were 15 members present.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Gail Morrison, chairman; Mrs. Frank Neuman, Miss Nell Ingham and Mrs. Cliff Swick.

Motor Club Drive Is Great Success

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—Ray Aylesworth, President of the Motor Club reported pleasing progress in the membership campaign.

Several of the members, including Mr. Aylesworth, will go to Uniontown next week to attend the State Pennsylvania Motor Federation Convention.

CIRCUS DAY QUIET

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Circus day passed into history very quietly and decorously, not one arrest being reported as a result.

Conducts Nutrition Classes In The Grade Schools Of Ellwood City

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., May 19.—The Community Service League functions in many ways among the people of this city, especially those who may be in need. One of its numerous activities is that of Nutrition classes in the grade schools. Under its direction, school children, who appear to be undernourished, are furnished with milk twice a day, for which they are required to pay, unless unable to do so. Scores of children are benefited. Detailed report of the activities of the league along those lines follows:

The Community Service League has conducted for the last five years Nutrition classes in the grade schools. Most parents have come to realize the benefits the children are receiving from getting their pint of milk daily. When the classes were first started the largest class was 17 while this year the largest attendance at one school was 102—this, of course varies from time to time.

The method of selecting those children who most need this attention is through the health reports of the school doctor. These children who are from 10 lbs. and on up underweight are entered in the classes. The parents are then called upon and the purpose of the class explained to them; that is, each child receives one-half pint of milk at 10 in the morning and one-half pint again at 2 in the afternoon. If the parents are able to pay for the milk it is expected of them; otherwise it is taken care of by the C. S. L.

The classes are held in the four grade schools. The nurse calls once a week at the schools and the youngsters are weighed and at the end of the month the actual gain of each child is recorded. Thus far this year the average actual gain per child is two pounds twelve ounces. This perhaps does not seem much but when one takes into consideration the children who are retarded by because of various physical defects it is very good.

At the end of the school year those children whose chart is decidedly underweight are looked up and as many as is possible are taken to the Fresh Air Camp for the summer.

Hadassah Chapter Have Card Party

ELLWOOD CITY, May 19.—Ellwood City Chapter of Hadassah gave a very successful card party for the benefit of the Red Cross of Palestine, last evening in Luxemburg Hall.

There were a large number of guests from Ellwood City, Wampum, Beaver Falls and other towns surrounding here.

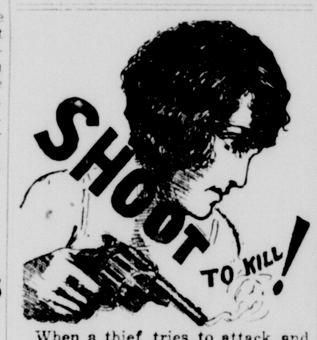
The evening was spent playing bridge at which the lucky prize winners were Mrs. C. A. Johnston, Mr. Starr, Beaver Falls; Mr. Ed Keller and Miss Markel of New York City.

A charming feature of the evening was singing by Mrs. H. E. Helling, accompanied by her daughter Jean, on the piano.

At the conclusion of the card playing, a lovely lunch was served by the committee, Mrs. M. Bolotin, Mrs. B. Balter and Mrs. N. Feldman.

Financially and socially, the party was a decided success.

One of the times a woman will forgive a man for lying is when he says she looks younger every day.



When a thief tries to attack and rob you—"shoot to kill"—you are told. You act quickly! But when science tells you to guard against System Poisoning—a dangerous health-robber—you are indifferent. Doctors call this thief of health "Toxemia".

Any one of forty symptoms may be a warning to beware of it. Headaches, pains in back, stomach troubles, nervousness, sleepless nights, tiredness, or lack of strength and ambition, may indicate its approach.

Guard against Toxemia with the right weapon. Take PARTOLA—the internal antiseptic and laxative—to cleanse your system. It gently drives out the poison wastes that cause the trouble, keeps you fit for business and pleasure. All druggists sell regular box 30¢, double size 50¢.

"My Copeland Is So Quiet"

Women appreciate this feature for its restfulness. Men recognize this absence of noise and vibration as proof of superior mechanical construction and as a guarantee of long life.

But quiet operation is only one of the many reasons why Copeland sales and popularity are increasing at such a phenomenal rate. Copeland makes from 90 to 390 ice cubes, with truly amazing speed, at one freezing. It is absolutely automatic and maintains a dry, cold atmosphere constantly below 60°.

Copeland cabinets are insulated with thick heavy sheet corkboard hermetically sealed, moisture proof, protected by all-metal sheathing; there are no insanitary drains. Deep trays for frozen deserts are furnished at no extra cost. Copelands are designed to provide more food storage space.

Copeland dependable refrigeration is now available in a wide variety of styles and for a wide variety of prices. A complete line of all-porcelain cabinets, several others finished in lustrous, white pyroxylin, and fourteen sizes of refrigerating units for installation in your present ice box, bring the advantages of Copeland design and construction within the reach of all. A small down payment puts any one in your home. Easiest of terms on the balance. Call at our showroom and let us show you the Copeland best suited to fill your needs.

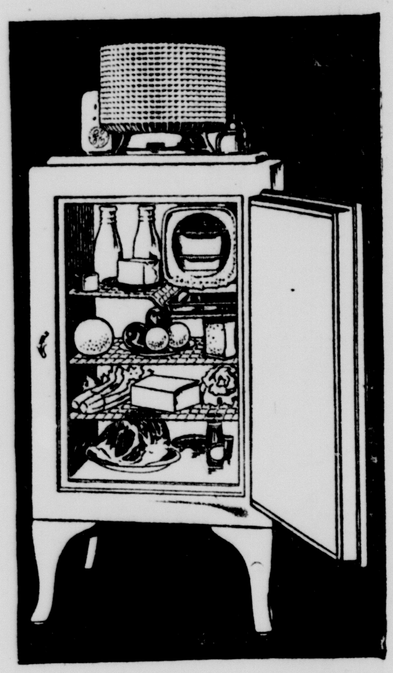
The World's Simplest Electric Refrigerator



This model provides five and one-half cubit feet of food storage space, nearly eight square feet of shelf area, and it makes seven pounds of ice at once—56 cubes, 28 large and 28 small. It is ideal for the average family.

There are sizes for every home. See them, study their superiorities. Get all the facts before you decide.

Quiet... No oiling... Trouble-free

For fifteen years the laboratories of General Electric have been busy with this problem of perfect electric refrigeration. And, being the outstanding electrical organization of the world, it was only logical that they should evolve a remarkably simple and efficient icing unit.

Sixty-four skilled engineers cooperated in its development. Thousands of refrigerators of nineteen different types were field-tested and improved.

Their goal was to produce the simplest, most practical, most economical electric refrigerator that science could achieve. That ambition has been realized.

The General Electric refrigerator consumes very little current. It keeps the most uniform temperature. It is extremely quiet—three feet away you can hardly hear it. It can be installed in five minutes, and, once installed, you never need oil it—never need touch it.

All its moving parts are enclosed in one hermetically sealed housing on top of the cabinet. It has efficiency sealed in—and trouble sealed out. The entire unit is merely lowered into the top of the refrigerator and plugged into a convenience outlet. Instantly it works.

Before you decide on your Electric Refrigerator

In fairness to yourself, inspect the new Servel steel cabinet models.

Measure Servel against your own ideas as to what an electric refrigerator should be. A revelation awaits you!

For through every detail of Servel's manufacture the first consideration is quality—not how many but how well can each Servel be built to give more years of dependable, economical service.

Briefly, here are a few of the features which identify Servel as the most advanced type of electric refrigerator:

1. Cabinet construction. Heavy "Armco" ingot iron—lead-coated to prevent rust. Rigid frame of selected oak. Exterior finish permanent air-dried white Duco.
2. Rounded corners and top beading. Eliminating all metal strips and screw holes which invite corrosion. More pleasing exterior and far easier to keep clean.
3. Better Insulation. Extra thick pressed corkboard, impregnated with hydrolene. All absolutely air-tight and moisture-proof.
4. Genuine porcelain liner. Spotless white porcelain fused on one-piece liner of "Armco" ingot iron. Smooth round corners. Sanitary—easiest to clean.
5. Improved chilling unit. Placed at the side, in all models. More convenient ice trays of single cube depth—easier to handle—quick to freeze. Shielding panel and tray fronts of white porcelain.
6. The coldest refrigerant in household use. Harmless, non-corrosive and practically odorless. Its remarkable freezing efficiency requires less work by the machine and thus saves electric current.
7. The "Duplex" refrigerating machine. Double compressor and double fan—even in the smallest Servel model. Built with precision and care to assure quiet, economical operation under all conditions. Entirely automatic—no delicate devices to get out of order.

Isolation Of Trachoma Disease Germ Perfected, Doctor Noguchi Asserts

One Of Greatest Medical Discoveries Of Recent Years Revealed To Doctors

Trachoma Disease Affecting Eyes Of American Indians And Asiatics

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 19. — One of the greatest medical discoveries of recent years has been made by Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, attached to the Rockefeller Institute, in the isolation of the germ that causes trachoma, scientists attending the American Medical Association convention declared today.

Dr. Noguchi revealed that he had isolated the dread germ, in an address before hundreds of eye specialists, who cheered him when the announcement was made. The disease has caused blindness to untold thousands, and is particularly prevalent even today among American Indians, and natives of Africa, Asia and remote parts of the earth. It has long baffled medical science.

The Rockefeller Institute has been conducting experiments concerning it since 1909.

Dr. Noguchi succeeded, he told the convention, in isolating the microorganism of Trachoma, and transferring it from an afflicted Indian patient to a monkey. He also succeeded in inducing it by innoculation, and later developed it in a culture.

Dr. Hubert Work, now a cabinet officer, and formerly president of the A. M. A., highly praised Dr. Noguchi's discovery.

"If we have found the cause we will find the cure," he said, pointing out that the isolation of the organism is the major step in the fight to overcome disease.

Trachoma is not particularly prevalent among white races today but it has taken enormous toll of the black, red and yellow.

Child-birth

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!

When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.

Safety Sam Says:

When kids are runnin' wild an' motorists are drivin' like they didn't have a lick o' sense or a second t' lose, th' reporters oughta have a cinch findin' news items.

College Pageants Casts Worried By Wintry Weather

MERCER, Pa., May 19.—The way the weather has been acting up for the past two weeks has several hundred young ladies attending college in Mercer County developing "Nerves."

The cause is briefly explained. On May 21st on the college campus at Grove City the co-eds of that school expect to present a pageant and crowning of a May Queen; on May 25 at Greenville the co-eds of Thiel College are planning a similar event.

The young ladies have prepared costumes for dramatic effects which with their youth and beauty will visualize them as the very essence of spring and here we are having revamped winter condition.

Elaborate programs have been prepared for these annual spring festivals. At Grove City College the event cards the crowning of Miss Helena Steveson as May Queen and the presenting of the pageant "Tis May! Tis May!" under the direction of Miss Esther Post who is head of the department of physical education for girls.

A cast of 200 co-eds and boys of the school will take part.

At Thiel Miss Frances Fitch will be crowned May Queen on May 25th and Miss Elizabeth Will will function as her Maid of Honor.

Folk and solo dancing of the co-eds are now being planned by Mrs. B. Mytinger head of the department of physical instruction for women. Not only will the college girls and boys be disappointed but Mercer County folks interested in the schools will also share in the bereavement.

The dancing of the girls is well worth seeing as those who attend will testify.

A high degree of terpsichorean art is reached in their dramatic effects by the girls who work all winter in making ready for this day of pageantry that officially announces with them the arrival of spring.

Rotary Clubs Help Crippled Children

MERCER, Pa., May 19.—The combined Rotary clubs of Mercer including the clubs of Sharon, Greenville, Grove City and Mercer and that at New Wilmington in Lawrence County have organized as is known from previous publications for the purpose of operating on every crippled child in Mercer County, either relieving them of their condition or if operation is impossible giving them medical treatment by surgeons and physicians of national repute.

The combined clubs have established an office here in connection with that of the county Medical Director Dr. S. J. Dickey, the county commissioners have promised their help and all that remains to be done is to secure the names of the children who are cripples.

If you know of any child so afflicted advise at once by addressing a letter to Dr. S. J. Dickey at Mercer, Pa., who will see that it is properly recorded. The clubs are anxious to get underway. There are known to be 30 children in the Greenville community. At the office here 25 more have been recorded. This does not even touch the number. Parents with children in crippled conditions should give this matter some thought and prompt action. The clubs cannot wait forever. The roads are so bad that a county wide canvass cannot be made.

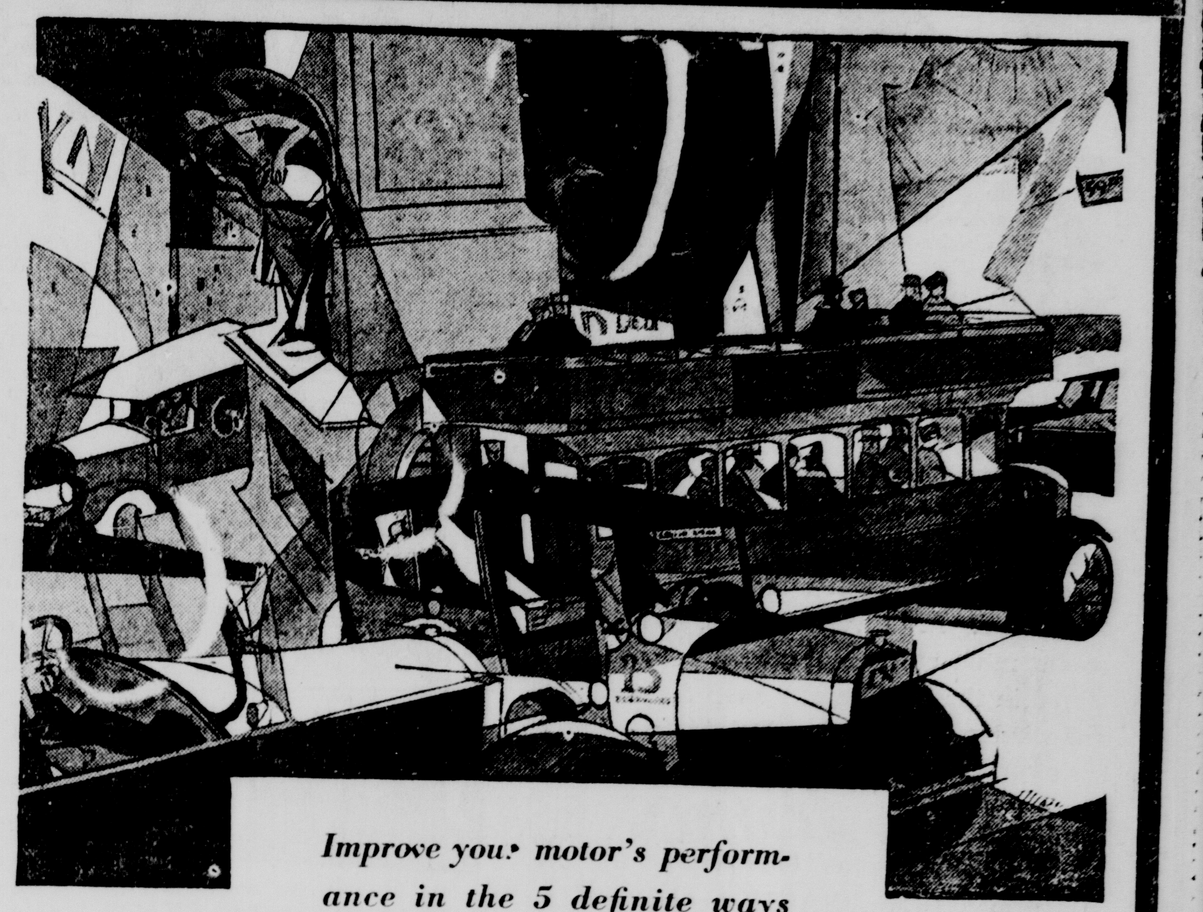
The most efficient reducing exercise consists in keeping a firm grip on yourself when asked to have some more.

E. And A. Agents In Meeting Here

A meeting of the agents of the E. & A. division of the Pennsylvania railroad will be held in the Y. M. C. A. today for the purpose of going over the new zoning system of station accounting which will go into effect on the division starting with June 1.

A representative of the comptroller from Philadelphia will be present to explain the new system.

In free America man needn't depend on birth for that superior feeling. He may make a hole in one.



Improve your motor's performance in the 5 definite ways essential to speed, ease and safety in today's tangled traffic.

Where traffic is worst TRAFFIC TYDOL is best

TRAFFIC is no longer confined to big cities. Wherever you drive, every street and every highway holds its own turbulent stream of speeding, dodging cars. The biggest motoring problem you face today is to get where you're going quickly, easily, safely.

Specifically, to meet that problem a new gasoline, Traffic Tydol, was created. In 5 essential ways Traffic Tydol surpasses other gasolines. It is the best motor-fuel you can buy for present-day driving.

Those statements are proved in these three ways.

First: by impartial, stop-watch tests in which Traffic Tydol proved superior to other gasolines.

Second: by the fact that Traffic Tydol has already been adopted by leading motor-transportation companies in the country, operating thousands of cars millions of miles a year through toughest traffic.

Third: by the testimony of car-owners who now use the New Traffic Tydol and endorse it as no other gasoline has ever been endorsed.

Stop today at any black and orange Tydol Pump. Have your tank filled with Traffic Tydol. Then you'll quickly discover what this new motor-fuel means in added speed, ease and safety.

PROOF

The New TRAFFIC TYDOL means

1. FASTER STARTING
2. QUICKER PICK-UP
3. MORE POWER
4. LESS GEAR-SHIFTING
5. REDUCED KNOCKING

Above facts proved in impartial, stop-watch tests. New Traffic-Tydol competed with seven other gasolines. Tests made by 16 professional demonstrators, in following cars, picked at random:

Ford, Whippet, Chevrolet, Dodge, Chrysler, Star "6" Pontiac, Nash, Hupmobile "6", Reo, Locomobile "8" Willys-Knight, Franklin, Chandler, Buick, Studebaker.

New Traffic-Tydol earned 66 out of possible 70 first places in tests made on 5 separate points. Unanimous choice of all 16 demonstrators as best all around gasoline.

Signed, photostatic records of above tests on file in offices of Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, 11 Broadway, New York City.

THE SEALED PUMP PROTECTS YOU

The Sealed pump, with which Tide Water defeated gasoline substitution a year and a half ago, is still rigidly in force. Nothing but Tydol can go into a Tydol dealer's tank. Nothing but Tydol can come from a Tydol pump.

Sale Starts Tomorrow

At the stroke of 9 O'Clock Tomorrow Morning we will launch this great sale—A Piano Selling Event that we have been preparing for during the past six months. We have received co-operative assistance and prices from every piano factory from whom we purchase instruments and the net result of this is represented in the most Outstanding value ever offered in Strictly Quality Pianos—Player Pianos and Grands. This $150,000 Sale includes all stock at the New Castle Store, also Pittsburgh Store.

Never Before

Never before in the history of Schroeders have we been able to offer any such unusual values. Schroeders do not conduct sales or drives. Schroeders have a reputation that is a household word for fair dealing and good values throughout Western Pennsylvania. We would not sacrifice one jot of this good repute for any given number of sales.

Never Again

We never expect to duplicate the values offered at this sale—the time spent in preparation—the vast investment—the effort necessary for the proper launching of this sale—are so vast and so complicated that it is very doubtful if we will ever again undertake any such merchandising program as is represented in this great sale. Here are values that we ourselves never dreamed were possible in the piano world.

Big Dude Moore Almost Wrecks Police Team When He Asks To Be Elected Manager On Account Of His Reputation As A First Ward Policeman; Colored Boys Intend To Take Advantage Of Situation; Game Will Be Called At Centennial Field At Three O'clock; Thousands Of Tickets Sold And Comedy Stunts Have Been Arranged For Fans; Expect Biggest Crowd In Local Baseball History

BY ED. FRITZ.

Internal dissension flared forth among the "Gimme Boys", known as the police department today and as a result they'll sally forth against the "Tin Can Brigade", or the garbage department, Friday afternoon, at Centennial Field, steamed as thoroughly as a baked clam.

Having discovered that the "Pleasemen" are somewhat hot under the necktie, the colah'd gen't'mun of Howard Phillips department propose taking the same advantage of the police as Sheriff Buck Reynolds would in serving a levy against the wooden leg of an alien returning home.

But be all of this as it may, the "Gimme Boys" are in unison on one important thing, that being the defeat of the amber-colored lads. "This dissension should be curbed, if necessary by the Chief Gazabo, Hen' Dysart or the Phillipmen may beat us" said 'Duck' Samuels.

According to reports received through an open transom, an unsigned note and an inside informant which should be sufficient for any newshound, the internal dissension cropped forth when Big Dude Moore, the red-faced beau brummel of the "Gimme boys" expressed a desire.

The said desire was to manage the team and according to the anonymous note, Dude said: "I've known these colored lads for years. I know their weaknesses. I do not believe I should be forgotten in this thing and I do not believe we have the team working right."

Ordinarily Dude would prove a dud were it not for his 6 feet, his 200 pounds and his ability to hit at the psychological time. Keyed to a high pitch of excitement, the members of the team, clustered about a spittoon, questioned the giant plainclothesman.

Tears In His Eyes

The big boy waxed eloquently and at times the few strands of red hair waved an "S. O. S." toward Brig Young who discreetly remained silent. Finally Dude demanded that an extraordinary session be held and the police ballotted on the managership.

While Sergeant Jimmie Steiner, who had been named manager, was answering the telephone, Dude rushed downstairs, brought up a prisoner and forced him to vote and when Jimmie discovered this there was hail columbia to pay. Being the boss, he sent all the men on long fake calls.

Occupying a corner about 1 a. m. today we ponted out to Dude his action declaring it uncalled for and adding that he had split up the team. He refused to coincide with our views and finally asked permission to explain.

"They took Bob Latera out of the pitching box because they said he was top heavy. Who ever heard of a First ward policeman being topheavy?" asked Dude. "They put in Steiner to pitch and Cricket Wysner is going to root for the colored boys which means a lot.

"They're kickin' about Harper playing on the team because he is as fat as George McManus' elephant. Well an elephant can stop a train if it lays down, can't it?" asked Dude meaning that if a ball was hit to Harper he would either catch it or throw his body in front of it.

Moore went on to explain that Tom Lynch, a runner of fame had not been asked to get into the team, added that George Kennedy who recently had made a "home run" by getting back in the ranks had been passed up and declared that Jobey Thomas had been ignored.

Colored Team Delighted

"There's only way of getting on that team and that is by standing in with the sergeant. All you have to do is to hand him a cigar every night, bring him his coffee and he'll plunk your name down on the roster," said Dude who, by this time, was expectorating fire.

And that's the way the situation stands among the "Gimme boys" excepting that the only position that none will take is that behind the bat. "No one wants my job," said Ray Thomas as he borrowed a mask, protector (he'll need two) and catching glove.

Meanwhile the colored boys, the Buckners, the Jordans, the Midnights and in fact all of the boys who look alike except to their sweeties are pinin' fo rthe game to start. They believe the Police Department is going to prove a cinch when the game starts Friday at 3:15 p. m.

Reports that Midnight will be barred because he is not a regular member of the Garbage bureau are denied. "We'll not take advantage of Phillips by removing Midnight. He'll remove himself after he proves a fizzle," said Roberto Dukes.

"Ah'll catch the game uf muh life, Mistah Fill-ups," said Buckner to his boss yesterday. "Ah'll pitch the same way" said Waters. "Ah's gonna kiss one ob dose apples on the cheek," remarked Jordan while Midnight rubbed his arm with snake oil.

Meanwhile the big attraction, which has been started to raise a thousand or more dollars for the Lawrence County chapter of the American Red Cross is attracting the attention of fans and fannettes. They intend to witness the game that means much to both bureaus, and much more to the sufferers from the flood in the Mississippi.

Thousands to Attend

The Police and Garbage departments do not like each other due to the fact that when the police slew dogs they refused to collect them unless the "Gimme boys" cut the reward with them. And this folk is the reason why these two teams were picked.

Those of you who wish to toss 25 cents into the Flood relief fund have an opportunity to do so. All you need do is to enter the ball park and seat yourself and witness a good ball game and a lot of comedy, pulled by only those who know how— the colored boys.

They say this chap Buckner is as funny as a cage filled with monkeys. They also claim that Midnight is just as much awake at three o'clock in the afternoon as he is when the cock crows in the morning, likewise the rest of the gang who helps keep the city sanitry, and for once in their life they will receive a square deal from police as Mayor Dunlap is not taking sides and Chief Henry Dysart has no official place on the policemen's team.

Mayor Invites Fans To Game

Mayor William Dunlap today extended an invitation to every man, woman and child in New Castle to be present at the baseball game Friday afternoon at Centennial field.

"The two teams can play good baseball and in addition to the game there will be lots of comedy that local fans rarely see. The price is 25 cents."

The money will be turned over to the Lawrence county chapter of the Red Cross and will be added to the amount already raised for the relief of flood sufferers.

Twilight League Teams In Action Again Tonight

The Lawrence County Twilight League will resume play tonight with four fast games on tap. The games wil start at 6:30 o'clock daylight savings time.

The Lawrence Indies will clash with the South Hills boys at the South Hills Field, and the game will be handled by Adams and Toy. The West Pittsburg Garlands will play at Hillsville tonight with Shingledecker and Hart as the officials. The Ryantown team and Radiator Colored Stars will battle at the Radiator field with Baker and Parks as the officials.

The Troop B team will journey to Edenburg for a game, with Hudson and Nolte as the umpires.

Elsewhere on The News sport page today will appear the revised standing of the Twilight Loop, made necessary through several protested games to the board of commissioners.

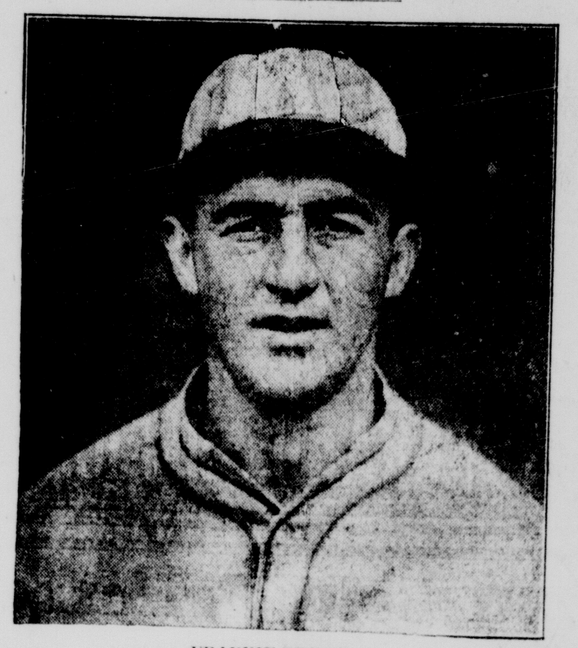
With Cards This Year



FRANKIE FRISCH.

New Castle fans will get their first glimpse of Frankie Frisch, former New York Giant second sacker, in his new role as the guardian of the half-way station for the St. Louis Nationals, when the World's champions appear at Centennial field Monday afternoon.

Frisch holds the distinction of never having spent a day in the minor leagues, and yet the youth is one of the best players in the National league today. Frisch graduated from Fordham University and stepped right into the New York lineup. Since joining the Giants in 1919 Frisch has never failed to hit below the .300 mark.

New Castle To Play Erie Sailors Saturday

Providing of course that it doesn't rain any more, and providing that the grounds at Centennial Field dry out a little, the New Castle team of the O. & P. League will clash with the Erie Sailors at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

Jupitor Pluvius has been enjoying a week-stand here and if his act is finished by Saturday all well and good, and if it isn't all well and good. Baseball playing here during the past week has been mighty slim and the profits have been mighty lean.

New Castle with a revamped lineup will engage the Sailors Saturday, bent on regaining a little of the lost ground lost during the first few games of the year. The locals have been playing in tough luck for the past several games.

Manager Meis will in all probability take the mound against the Erie boys, with Art Bryan behind the bat. The Lake City boys have a fast aggregation this year and they are cutting a wide swatch in the loop circles.

Brehanney has arrived in town and will be ready for action at third base Saturday afternoon. The hot-corner has been covered by three or four different fielders this year and none of them have shown a marked tendency to play anything like steady baseball. It is expected that Brehanney former Mid-Atlantic league star will bolster up the Castle infield to some extent.

The New Castle team was forced to remain idle yesterday on account of wet grounds. The other games in the O. & P. league were also called off due to wet grounds and rain.

Best In His League — By Feg Murray

Back in 1915 the Giants had a 19-year-old right-handed pitcher named Ray Kremer. McGraw decided not to keep him, however, and back he went to Vancouver, whence he had come, and proceeded to work diligently at his trade of throwing a baseball past the opposing batters. He worked so well at it that the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League got hold of him, and in six years he won just two less than 100 games for his manager and owners. The fact that during that time his losses exceeded his wins was not looked upon as a discouraging sign by the Pittsburgh club, which bought him because of his 1921 record, which was good, his 1922 record better, and his performance in 1923 very worthy indeed.

So Ray, the "Wizard", came back to the majors and, unlike Paul Strand, another Coast League star who made the journey up at the same time, he arrived with a bang and has more than made good. In 1924 his record was 18 victories and 10 defeats; in 1925, 17 wins and only eight losses; and last season he led all other National League pitchers in percentage of games won and lost, with 20 and six to his credit, and also in earned run averages, with 2.61.

That brings us up to 1927, which year finds Mr. Kremer doing his best to bring the Pirates once more back into the championship class. Ray pitched three games in the 1925 world series, losing one and winning two; the one that tied up the series at three games apiece on October 14, and then getting credit for winning the final victory over Walter Johnson the following day. He showed, by winning his first three starts in April that he is going to do his bit to get a chance to pitch in the 1927 world series. He's the best pitcher in the National League, not barring Alexander the Great!

Feg Murray Says—

Friends of Steve Bradley of Princeton, who shared first place honors in the pole-vault in three recent track meets, say that his ties in athletics are nothing to the ties he wears on the campus.

Pirates Hammer Giant Pitchers

Joe Harris Leads Attack Of Bushmen By Getting Four Hits

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Pirates made their first appearance on the Polo grounds Wednesday afternoon and after slamming Giant hurlers like waves toss corks the Bushmen of Pittsburgh romped away with a 13 to 6 victory.

Aldridge hurled for the Pirates and held the Giants to nine hits. The Giants used Henry, Fitzsimmons, Clarkson and none of them fared well against the cutlasses of the Pirate crew, a total of one dozen and a half hits being recorded by the scorekeeper.

Aldridge had plenty of stuff on the ball when there was a necessity to put it on but after the first inning there did not seem a great necessity and naturally not after the second as it was then that the Bushman scored enough runs to romp away with victory.

By the time the teams went into the last of the fifth the Pirates had netted 11 runs and Aldridge let down and the Giants put five runs across. Figuring that this was five too many the Bushmen got busy again, got two more runs and the Giants got one.

Joe Harris, the Franklinite led in the hitting attack for the Pirates. He hammered out four singles and drew a walk while Cuyler, P. Waner and Wright scored a brace of hits. Grantham, Traynor and Gooch secured their one hit which showed they were present. Hornsby did not get a sniff of a hit.

Wild Life League Plans Convention At Conneaut Lake

Thirteenth Annual Convention To Be Held At Conneaut In September

The 13th annual Wild Life League convention will be held at Conneaut Lake park in September A feature will be the field meet and air A. K. C. licensed dog show.

The lague is strictly a Pennsylvania organization operating under a Pennsylvania charter—and for the benefit of its members and sportsmen's interest. Pennsylvania has more game than any other state. The fishing is not beyond redemption, and can be redemed when the fishermen get together and demand it. The league is keeping up the fight for better conditions at all times. The annual dues have been reduced to $1.50. The largest gathering of sportsmen and women ever held in Pennsylvania at an A. K. C. licensed dog show and trials is assured.

The state game and fish commission members are expected to attend. The fish commission will show motion pictures revealing the history of a fish from the egg stage to its capture by an angler.

As an added attraction the A. K. C. dog show is assured of a large entry.

The week's schedule consists of trap shooting, revolver and rifle matches, beagle and bird dog derbys, live bear chases, fox hunting and raccoon dog trials, fly and bait casting contests, motor boat, canoe and sail boat races.

Cangie Battles Brady

Has Chance To Succeed If He Accepts Good Advice

At Erie Friday Night

By ED. FRITZ.

Kid Cangie, new Castle lightweight, will step forth against Jackie Brady in a ten round bout Friday night at Erie and the local kid who is the city's foremost glove tosser will be an even choice in the betting when the gong rings.

Cangie has been training under the tutelage of Jimmie Dime who has half a number promising prospects in his training quarters near Beaver street. Dime has brought Cangie to the fore and he expects his protege to win.

Jackie Brady is one of the best ringmen upper New York state possesses and he has had a good run of success in recent battles. Should Cangie be able to flop the New York state walloper he will become a favorite in Port City.

Cangie does his training at night and he hopes to be strong as a young bull when he steps into the ring. He will not have to train down to the hair line as the weight for Friday night's fight has been fixed at 138 pounds.

The local Kid has awakened to the fact that constant training and an open ear for good advice means something in the fight game and providing he listens to the astute Jimmie he will get somewhere as there is no question but Sir James knows his onions.

There have been several fighters who have fought under his banner ruined by the advice of "hangers-on" and as a result they died pugilistically after starting out with a world of promise. The boys who did listen while they didn't win a toga, earned money.

Jimmie Dime is not yet able to walk without the aid of crutches but the fact remains he does not need crutches to have his brain cogitate. There are perhaps more renowned managers but when tutoring is concerned, few excel the local instructor of fistic art.

Proof of this is seen in his development of Jimmie Dunn, Tony Ross, Tom McManon, George Chip, Patsy Brannigan and numerous other fighters who, in their day, proved the rage of their classes in the scores of cities where they appeared.

Dunn fought the best in his day, Attel, Murphy, Welch and others. Ross mingled with the Shrecks, Caponi's, Jeannettes, the great Sam Langford, Jack Johnson, and other heavyweights who sprung up when Johnson settled Jim Jeffries' attempt to come-back.

Tom McMahon drew with the rugged Gunboat Smith, beat Jess Willard, put Battling Levinsky on the shelf, punched Carl Morris all over a ring and got away with heavyweights who in the realms of sport carried a monaker that sounded lige big money.

Jimmie developed George Chip from a squatty blacksmith and coal miner into a world's champion and when Dime said, "George, you can beat Frank Klaus," the New Castle middleweight stepped into Klaus, knocked him out and turned the trick a second time.

Later Jimmie taught Joe, his brother the art and the younger Chip milled with McCoy, Wilson, and in fact all the topnotch middleweights. Had Josefus cared to linger longer in the game he would have sallied far along the trail but he up and quit the game.

There were others, for instance, Battling Terry, whom Dime brought along, Tommy Jones, Tommy Bresnahan, Babe Picato, who is still fighting and that wonderful phenom of the ring, John Patrick Brannigan, still remembered as Patsy Brannigan, the batamweight.

It was Dime who helped the rugged Patsy play checkers with the best batamweights and featherweights in the ring and wherever the two appeared, it meant, perhaps no title, but a victory plus coin and it is coin that the boys struggle for.

Here's Cangie, a youngster, with a world of promise; a sock that cannot be excelled. He popssesses all the essentials that the top-notchers have and with Dime as his guardian and Cangie ready to listen to no one but Jimmie, he ought to go far.

Dime is in the boxing business, first because he likes the game in which he participated as a youth. He went up the ladder and in his day was one of the best 128 pounders in the game. He scored 41 knockouts of 44 fights.

He has never forgotten the art of hitting and to be frank, it is in this department of tutelage that he excells. He knows the other angles and if Cangie, the city's foremost lightweight bends to the will and has the desire in his heart, he will succeed.

Maloney Favored Over Jack Sharkey In Tonight's Bout

Winner Of Heavyweight Bout Tonight May Get Chance At Gene Tunney

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, May 19.—John L.'s body lies a-mouldering in the grave but the thews and heart of the parent often are visited upon the children even to the third generation and it may be so at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

There, in the petiless, naked glare of the Kleigs, a pair of third generation Boston heavyweights, Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney, will take up the trail on which, thirty five years ago, Sullivan laid down his poor, old bones in gallant defeat and he was the noblest Bostonian of them all. The inherited nobility of his professional sons is yet to be proved or even indicated.

For, truth to tell, there has been only one John L. in all the history of pugilism, the most feared man that ever sat in a corner, a man who remains the toast of the old timers to this day. He went far along the trail—to the title and years beyond it—but trail's end is inevitable. And so he finally lost to a younger and better man.

The trail is only beginning for Sharkey and Maloney but it may be that either or both of them will go as far as John and certain it is that they will make money undreamed of in Sullivan's day.

New York Teams Leading Circuits

Giants And Yankees Monopolize Lead In Both Major Leagues

CHICAGO TEAMS IN SECOND PLACE

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 19.—The story of the pennant races is a tale of three cities today. By an odd coincidence, both New York clubs are leading the parade, both Chicago teams are in second place and the two Philadelphia outfits are in third place.

Chicago's advance to second place and the flop of the Cardinals into the two Philadelphia outfits are in third place.

Chicago's advance to second place and the flop of the Cardinals into the second division featured a shake-up in the National League standing. The Cards, after losing one series to the Giants and another to the Phillies, dropped the opener of the Boston series, 8 to 1. Larry Benton, the winning twirler, put the skids under Wee Willie Sherdel by hitting a double with the bases full.

The Pirates got off to an eleven run lead and murdered the Giants, 13 to 6. Joe Harris got four of Pittsburgh's eighteen hits and the Giants made five errors.

Brooklyn also made five errors and lost to the Cubs 7 to 4. Charley Root pitched well while outfielder Hack Wilson covered more ground than a mortgage.

Bing Miller got four hits in one game for the third time within a week and took the lead in the American League batting race as the Browns outslugged the Red Sox, 8 to 6. The Red Sox made three homers, as many as they previously had made all season.

Whitehill struck out ten men and the umpires threw out two others as Detroit beat Washington, 5 to 3.

The Reds, Phillies, Indians, Athletics, White Sox and Yanks were idle account rain.

Rain Preventing Tennis Matches

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 19.—Rain has been playing havoc with the schedule of the Westminster College tennis team. Last Saturday's match with Bethany at home, had to be postponed while another match with Geneva here, Wednesday, had to go by the boards.

Jup Pluvius' over-generosity has made the members of the squad restless. Captain Francis McDowell and his mates had hoped for a strenuous week so that condition would be reached for the all-important tilt with Pitt, here Saturday afternoon.

Good weather is hoped for on Thursday as not one day of practice has been possible this week. It is probable that the team will lineup in the same manner Saturday as it did when Duquesne and Bethany were defeated.

Bill Clark, Bill Schaeffer, Capt. McDowell and Paul Gibson will participate in the singles in the order named.

Many bowling pins used thruout the United States, as well as virtually all of the candle and duck pins used in New England, where the small pins are in vogue, are made in one factory in Sanford, Me. The yearly output of the factory includes 10,000 sets of candlepins, 500 sets of duckpins and several thousand sets of big pins. For the candles and ducks half a million feet of lumber is used each year, and for the big pins from 5,000 to 100,000 feet. Altogether nearly 200,000 pins of the different sizes are turned out in twelve months.

Bakers Defeat Mahoning M. E.

Pitchers Battle On E. & A. Grounds Goes To Bakers By Score 7-6

The Model Bakers defeated the Mahoning M. E. church team 7 to 6, in a well played game on the Pennsy grounds. The game was a pitchers battle between McCaskey and Robison.

With the score deadlocked at 2-2 in the fourth inning the Bakers hit Robison hard and this coupled with several walks gave them five runs. The Mahoning boys rallied in their half of the fourth, but fell short one run. Robison on the hill for the Mahoning team accounted for his own defeat by issuing five walks. Fruit the diminutive catcher of the Bakers was the hitting star of the game with a double and single, while Ostrosky also hit timely.

Moore and Gilmore were the best stickers for the losers. Johnson the right-fielder of the Mahoning team made the feature catch of the game when he speared a hard hit ball by Jones that was ticketed for three sacks.

The Bakers play the Polish A. A. tonight on the American Can company grounds.

SORDS POINTS

He Goes To The Capital Of Pitching

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

Our idea of the proper place for a pitcher to learn his trade is with the St. Louis Cardinals.

It's just like tossing a young artist fresh from a correspondence school into a colony consiting of Howard Chandler Christy, Dean Cornwell, Walter Louderback, James Montgomery Flagg and a few others.

For what greater opportunity could a man have to pick up the fine points of pitching than among such men as Grover Alexander Jess Haines, Bill Sherdel, the younger Flint Rhem, and the shrewd coach, Allan Sothoron?

Bob McGraw, after batting around in baseball for a few years without getting any place outside of a bench job with the Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, has just joined the Cardinals. He was traded to the champs a short time ago by the Dodgers for D'Arcy, alias Jake, Flowers, infielder.

Bob has been a willing pitcher and has shown promise at times. With the out-of-step Dodgers last season he won nine games and lost 13. He worked in 179 innings and yielded an average of 4.09 runs a game. Nothing to be proud of. He ranked 28th among the pitchers.

Now he will spend his waking hours with such masters of the craft as the Cardinal hurlers mentioned.

Sherdel is the possessor of the greatest slow ball in the game today. Alexander is the master craftsman with an intimate knowledge of the weakness of every batter in the league.

Haines has a wonderful change of pace.

Sothoron knows the technique of pitching—can correct any pitching faults that may have handicapped McGraw todate.

Oh, what a beautiful landing field for a young aviator in the pitching plane!

AMATEUR NOTES

The South Hills Clubs defeated the Gerson Imperials by a score of 14 to 1 in a game played on the Shenango-Taylor grounds. The pitching of Fleeger, who allowed but two hits, featured the game.

The Buick Midgets recently captured two games. The Midgets defeated the Pollock Midgets, 11 to 6, and also downed the St. Vitus Midgets, 14 to 4.

The Colored Star Juniors will play the East Side Athletics tonight on the Athletics field. Friday night the Juniors will tangle with the fast Boro A. A. team on the Boro grounds. Both games will start at six o'clock. For games with the Stars call 2189R and ask for Tom.

The Rick-Overland A. C. took a forfeit game from the Hoodoo Club. The Cubs failed to show up at Elder's field at six o'clock on Tuesday night for their scheduled game with the Overlands.

The Triangle Midgets are seeking games with all first-class midget teams in the city and county between the ages of 10 and 14 years. For games call 2345W and ask for Robert. The players are: R. Palus, H. Palus, DeCarbo, Conn, DiGenario, Morelli, F. Farone, J. Farone, Campoli, F. Morelli and Turco.

The State Street Midgets defeated the Colored Star Juniors, 12 to 1, in a game played on the North street field. B. Parkes, on the mound for the State street boys, was in rare form and gave but one hit.

Church League Games Tonight

Two fast games are billed in the New Castle Church league for tonight. The games will start at 6:30 o'clock, daylight savings time.

The Central Presbyterians will clash with the Epworth M. E. boys on the Colonial grounds and the Croton M. E. team will battle the First Christian outfit at the Lehigh field.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cinci Reds, deserves a better break than he and his team are getting these days.

The hard luck championship of the major leagues is his. And part of the trouble was wished on him by the club officials.

The team has been shot to pieces by injuries and ailments of various players. These mishaps coming on top of ragged pitching have virtually wrecked the team.

First of all the failure of Barry Herrmann and Hugh Critz, star second baseman, to come to terms until two weeks after the season opened, sent the team away to a bad start. Hendricks, his heart set on having Critz, found himself forced to start with a temporary lineup.

Critz finally joined the club, without any training to speak of, and came up lame after a few days of play. George Kelly was sent to second.

Then the fun began.

Wallie Pipp was injured and Kelly sent to first.

Pittenger was called upon to fill the gap. Bressler, third baseman, went into a batting slump. Babe Pinelli took his place.

Christensen couldn't find his batting eye. Another substitution. Pittenger was hurt and that called for another shift.

Rube Gressler, handy man about the house, was taken sick and that called for another.

Meanwhile the pitchers were getting "no better durn fast," as the Frenchman said.

As I pointed out last spring from the south the Cinci Reds were handicapped last season by the row between the club and Eppa Rixey. This year the absence of Critz got the club away to a bad start. Whether or not this served as the jinx is a matter of conjecture of course.

Which isn't in keeping with Hendricks' usual success.

At Wrong Time

Hazen Cuyler, heavy hitter of the Pittsburg Pirates, finds himself puzzled this year by his failure to collect hits when they are needed. Recent averages showed him batting a bit below .300 and his hits are mostly "in the averages" as far as helping his team is concerned.

UPAN ADAM

"The fellas who ride out of Louisville don't really appreciate the setting for the Kentucky Derby. It's beautiful."

Looking Back

HAM HYATT

(WAS A STAR PINCH-HITTER)

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Donie Bush, Pittsburgh pilot, is trying to get more batting power in his team.

Which recalls the name of "Ham" Hyatt.

Hyatt used to draw his salary from the Pirates for that very thing—putting a punch in the team.

One punch a game, usually, but how.

He was one of the game's greatest pinch hitters.

On May 16, 1913, Hyatt stepped to the plate as pinch hitter and drove out a home run.

On July 2, that same year, he repeated the feat.

On August 22, that same summer, he did it again.

A world's record for timely pinch hitting right there.

Claus of Seale, an Alsatian owned by the Prince of Wales, has won over 40 prizes at English bench shows.

WHILE WAITING FOR BIG ONES

While he's waiting for Tex Rickard to chase up the best cate of the heavyweight boxing season Gene Tunney, world's heavy king is spending most of his time in the north woods to keep in condition Photo shows him with one of the brook trout pulled out during day's fishing in the Laurentian Mountains, northwest of Montreal,

This age strives to excel in all things and it recognizes and rewards excellence.

This age of high standards welcomes the Camel quality

MODERN smokers are the most exacting ever known, and they place Camel first among cigarettes.

For Camel was created to succeed in the hardest-to-please age ever known. It was made to satisfy those who demand the utmost, and modern smokers have given it such popularity as no other cigarette ever had.

If you're downright hard to please, just try Camels. Tobacco taste and fragrance will be revealed as never before, for Camels are rolled of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos, supremely blended. This modern cigarette exceeds all other standards but its own. To light one is to find taste fulfilment. "Have a Camel!"

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Georgia Railroad Raid (Part Four) — by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

WHEN THE TRAIN BEARING THE DISGUISED UNION RAILROAD RAIDERS REACHED BIG SHANTY, THE PASSENGERS AND CREW ALIGHTED AND HURRIED OFF THROUGH THE DRIVING RAIN TO GET BREAKFAST, LEAVING THE TRAIN DESERTED. HERE WAS THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY FOR WHICH ANDREWS HAD PLANNED!

INSTANTLY THE RAIDERS SPRANG INTO ACTION AND IN A FEW SECONDS THE PASSENGER COACHES ON THE REAR HAD BEEN UNCOUPLED FROM A FORWARD SECTION CONSISTING OF THE ENGINE, TENDER AND THREE EMPTY BOX CARS.

ANDREWS HAD SELECTED FOUR EXPERIENCED TRAINMEN TO TAKE PART IN THE RAID AND THESE, WITH THE LEADER, QUICKLY MOUNTED TO THE CAB OF THE LOCOMOTIVE, WHILE THE REMAINING MEMBERS OF THE BAND CLAMBERED INTO THE REAR BOX CAR.

WHEN ALL WERE ABOARD, ANDREWS GAVE THE SIGNAL AND THE TRAIN DARTED AWAY FROM THE STATION. THE MOVE WAS SO UNEXPECTED THAT THE FEW CONFEDERATES WHO WITNESSED THE SUDDEN DEPARTURE OF THE TRAIN WERE ROOTED TO THE SPOT WITH AMAZEMENT.

CONTINUED TOMORROW.

WASHINGTON, May 19. — A physician will be sent to Greenville, S. C. to examine Earl Carroll, the theatrical producer, and determine whether he is fit to continue his journey to Atlanta Federal prison to serve a year and a day for perjury, it was announced at the department of justice today.

Carroll collapsed several weeks ago while being taken to the prison, and has since been in a Greenville hospital.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 19.—A sweeping advance in prices of the speculative favorites at the beginning of trading today resulted in the establishment of new high records, both for the market as a whole as well as for a number of individual stocks. General Motors finally crossed $200 a share, with a block of 6,000 shares changing hands at that price.

With the exception of the oils, which experienced another fainting spell, the whole list moved forward impressively. Baldwin raced up to above 216 in the first period commercial solvents B gained 7 points Pittsburgh and West Virginia 4 and American Smelting sold at the year's high price of 155 in heavy trading. Du Pont and Cast Iron Pipe sold up a few points, while Wabash common resumed the sharp advance which characterized that stock a few weeks ago.

A gain of 29,000 cars in the weekly aggregate of car loadings was the most impressive evidence of continued high pressure in domestic business. Goods are moving to markets in large volume, and the leaders of most divisions of industry are confident with respect to the future of American trade. New price cuts in gasoline started a flood of selling of the oil stocks, but the losses were moderate, and the volume or transactions comparatively small.

Question Local Man In Cleveland Girl Murder Case

Detectives Charles Cavolo and P. J. McNeely of the Cleveland Homicide squad were in the city late Wednesday afternoon and with the assistance of members of the local police force, located a young man in this city, who was sought to explain his knowledge of Miss Elizabeth Regan, aged 25, waitress, who was murdered in her apartment last Saturday evening.

The young man was located without trouble and explained his whereabouts on the night of the murder, stating that he had been in Ashtabula with friends all that day and night and the following day. The fact that he had known the murdered girl became known to the Cleveland authorities through two letters written by him to Miss Regan in the past few weeks and found among her possessions.

The young man told of sending the letters and also of having called upon the young woman at a time previous to her murder. Of his own free will, the young man in question accompanied the detectives to Ashtabula for the purpose of checking up still further his whereabouts on the night of the murder. He was at no time under arrest in spite of newspaper reports to the contrary.

To Begin Series Of Song Services

Present Pantomime Of Hymn "Nearer My God To Thee" At First Service In St. Paul's Lutheran

On Sunday evening, May 22, at 7:30, St. Paul's Lutheran congregation will start a series of song services. A feature of this first service will be a pantomime of the hymn "Nearer My God To Thee," by the Misses Carrie Hempel and Katherine Eve who have been rehearsing for the past several months under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Stump.

The hymn will be sung as a duet by Rose Sanders and Katherine Wagner. The members and friends of St. Paul's church are cordially invited to all the services especially this one.

On Sunday evening, June 12 at 7:30 the Rev. E. B. Burgess, D. D., president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran church will speak in the local church on the subject "De Passavant, the Pioneer" Dr. Passavant founded more churches and charitable institutions, than any other Lutheran, and possibly more than any other Protestant in America. He was also the founder of the Pittsburgh Synod.

No one is more capable and better informed on this subject than is Dr. Burgess who is author of the History of the Pittsburgh Synod and who has had access to the full historical data.

Convict Youth Of Double Murder

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 19.—Francesco Cilione, "love-crazed" youth was convicted today of the murder in 1923 of Mary Cilione, his cousin and sweetheart, and her mother, Mrs. Theodora Cilione.

The jury brought in a verdict of first degree for killing the girl and second degree for slaying the mother. Sentence of life imprisonment was deferred pending appeal for a new trial.

Cilione shot the girl because she refused to marry him. He shot the mother twice when she went to her daughter's rescue.

After the slaying Cilione was arjudged insane and confined in the asylum at Farview. He was discharged only recently and ordered to stand trial.

JORDAN WRITES TO FARMERS

Harrisburg, Pa., May 18, 1927.
To the Farmers and Gardeners of the Corn Borer Area:

The time for a complete clean-up of all the remnants of last year's corn crop has almost expired. A great deal of the work has already been thoroughly done, but there are some fields that have not yet received the finishing touches.

We again urge all farmers to complete the work immediately and thoroughly, in order that they may have the satisfaction of having done their full duty and that they may receive their reward for so doing.

It is not the wish of the federal government or the State Department of Agriculture to deprive anyone of their compensation and to add the expense of having outsiders go in and complete the work, but if any farmer fails to make a complete job, the work will be done by the federal government and the responsible party will have to pay the bill and lose his compensation.

Please get busy and finish your work, that it may be said no Pennsylvania farmer was weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Sincerely yours,
C. G. JORDAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Have Banquet In New Church

Men Of Presbyterian Church At Slippery Rock Are Banquet Guests

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 19.—The women of the Presbyterian church banqueted the men of the church Tuesday night at the first social function given in the new building. About 150 men sat down at the dinner, which was held in the social hall. The tables were lavishly decorated with tulips, and the entire dinner was carried through with unusual promptness and skill.

This dinner was a part of the loyalty campaign being carried on by the church with the expectation of raising next Sunday morning the sum not yet subscribed to complete payments for the church and its furnishings, a total of some $42,000.

The dinner was presided over by Professor David C. Porter, who as a beginning of the after-dinner speaking, called on Elder John T. Bingham, the oldest member of the church, and for some 50 years one of its elders. When Mr. Hughes, who is less vigorous than he was a half century ago, rose to his feet, he was greeted by a spontaneous movement to the feet by the entire company. He spoke of the earliest churches in the community, of the first building erected by the Presbyterians, of the second building, which came after many years, and then of the erection of this new and far more complete building. Mr. Bingham, who is honored by the entire community, was listened to with the closest attention. That he was present was deemed an especial honor by the women.

At this point the master of the evening was presented with a silver tray on which rested a veiled package. When it was discovered to the expectant company it proved to be a dinner bell of huge proportions. The explanation was then made that this was to be used to ring down any speaker who occupied more than two minutes. After Rev. C. N. Moore of Zelienople had just missed being "belled", the members of the building committee were asked to rise for inspection. Dr. Blaisdell, secretary of the committee, was then called upon to speak for the committee, but he was so promptly rung down that his speech consisted of little save a statement that the building was speaking for the committee.

In rapid succession followed two-minute brilliants by Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg of the Teachers' College, Rev. Frank Frampton of the Methodist church and Rev. Harvey McCormick of the United Presbyterian church. The members of the various local firms, which had been liberal in supplying hardware, carpets, ruge, furniture, etc., to the church, were then asked to stand.

At this point the toastmaster presented the bell to Dr. Alexander Mitchell of Philadelphia, the manager-guest of the campaign. In this significant manner the company was informed that Dr. Mitchell might speak as long as he wished.

Dr. Mitchell in 45 minutes emphasized the importance of such an equipment in the religious training of children, and by many striking illustrations showed the value to men of the Christian habit of using a tenth of their income for the work of the Lord.

Dr. Mitchell's address was both interesting and inspiring, and it was a general feeling that he had successfully sold his proposition to the men.

The men most enthusiastically thanked the women for their entertainment, the college male quartet for a number of vocal selections and Carrol Godwin for his solos. The music was under the direction of Prof. Frank Hardman and was one of the specially pleasant parts of the dinner.

Woman Dies As Result Of Burns

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—Burns, suffered when a gas stove exploded in her bathroom yesterday were said today to have been the cause of the death last night of Mrs. Margaretta Hesidence, 39, a political leader in her ward.

Mrs. Hesidence was found unconscious after pedestrians notified the fire department of smoke pouring out of the upper part of the woman's house. She was alone in the home at the time of the explosion.

Avert Strike On Pere Marquette

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 19.—A 12-hour conference between President Frank H. Alfred of the Pere Marquette and representatives of eight railroad unions has averted the strike which threatened to tie up the road, it was reported today.

Railroad workers in Flint, Mich., were notified the strike had been called off.

Union leaders and railroad executives will issue an official statement some time today.

Indians To Appear In College Pageant

Will Share In Historical Presentation At Westminster, May 28

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 19.—Neshannock Valley, within the span of which is New Wilmington, the home of Westminster College, in pioneer days was a favorite stamping ground of the American Indian. Tradition has it that many skirmishes between British and French and Indian fighters took place in this vicinity.

The tradition of the location will be realized to the fullest extent in Westminster's May Pageant which is to be presented Saturday afternoon, May 28, on the college athletic field.

The theme of the pageant deals with the re-picturing of the various steps in the development of the United Presbyterian institution of learning. The founding in 1852 will be visualized and the story will carry through the memorable fire of January 24 which destroyed Old Main. The pageant will be climaxed in the presentation of the picture of the Westminster to be.

Mrs. Mary C. McConagha, director, has named the characters who are to portray the early days of the school.

Miss Nancy Miller of Butler, will be the spirit of the Neshannock. American Indian Heralds will be Charles Ayres of Canonsburg, and George Dickson of East Palestine, O. Miss Lois Scott of McKees Rocks, Helen Petrie of Washington, D. C., Hazel Thompson of New Wilmington, Dorothy Strain of Pulaski, Ruth Dinsmore of New Wilmington, and Blanche Miller of Linesville, will be the American Indian women.

Harry Newell of Sharon and Brown Bricker of North Braddock have been named Westminster heralds. Orville Mirtz of Pittsburgh, will be the narrator. Negro heralds will be Joseph Smith of Youngstown, and Everett Knox of Evans City.

Jackson Center

A social party was held for the Junior Christian Endeavor Society, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mohney. There were about sixty young folks present. Lunch was served and games were played. The instructors of the Junior Endeavor are, Miss Lulu Seidel and Mrs. Harry Menzi.

Mrs. A. B. Cozad, of New Wilmington, has exchanged her large farm in Jackson Township, to Mr. Lighty, for his property in Sharon. The farm being known as the James Moon farm. Mr. Lighty, recently sold his farm in Jackson Township and moved to Sharon, but will now be back on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutliff, of Fredonia, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Truxell.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans, of Grove City, visited the former's parents, on Sunday.

The Erie Presbytery has arranged for the pastors in the Presbytery to exchange pulpits on May 22. On that day all the pastors in the Presbytery are expected to exchange pulpits and to preach a sermon on the work and needs of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Herbert H. Brown of Hadley and Atlantic churches near Greenville, has been appointed to preach in the Presbyterian church of Jackson Center, at 11 a. m., and Rev. S. C. Elder will preach at Cochranton, and Milledgville.

Mrs. George Pearson, who recently moved to town has moved back to her farm in Jackson township.

Memorial services are being planned to be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, May 29. All soldiers are invited to attend. In the evening the pastor of the church will preach a baccalaureate sermon in honor of the graduating students of the different high schools who belong to this community.

Exhume 600 Chinese For Shipment Home

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 19.—The bones of six hundred Chinese who have been dead seven years or more, will be exhumed at Mountainview cemetery here and shipped to their last resting place in China. Permission to exhume the bodies has been granted by Dr. H. E. Young, provincial health officer.

The city stands to gain $7,200 in the transaction as the graves may be resold at $12 each. Health authorities reported that the exhumations will solve temporarily the problem of cemetery space for Chinese, that portion of the cemetery now allotted to them being filled up.

REMOVE GOITRE

SINGLE SURVIVOR OF MONITOR'S CREW SUCCUMBS AT 89

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 19.—The last link to the most important happening in naval history since the change from rafts to canoes vanished here yesterday when Isaac H. Scott, 89, sole remaining survivor of the crew of the Federal Ironclad Monitor died peacefully at his home.

The Monitor's defeat of the Confederate armored hulk Merrimac in the James river began a new era of naval history. Both were the first armored vessels to fight it out, but the Monitor—"cheesebox on a raft"—was turreted like a modern battleship and the Merrimac was merely armored.

Scott was born in Quebec and came to the United States when he was 14 years old. He enlisted at the start of the Civil War and remained in service until its close. He leaves four daughters.

MOTORIST GETS 20-YEAR TERM

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 19.—Louis Kennedy, one armed automobile driver who ran into a group of women and children recently, killing two was sentenced to 20 years in the Ohio penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

Tells you there is danger ahead. A healthy bladder does not act at night.

J. H. Dorton, W. Graham, Va., says: "I had to get up seven or eight times at night for forty years. I thought it was my age. After taking Lithiated Buchu a short time, I am alright." Lithiated Buchu cleanses the bladder as Epsom Salts do the bowels, thereby relieving irritation, driving out foreign matter and neutralizing excessive acids. These are the causes of unnatural action of the bladder at night. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) is not a cheap medicine. The tablets cost 2 cents each. Sold at all leading drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Paisley's Pharmacy.
